Baroque Architecture:

Baroque Architecture Martin Shaw Briggs, 1914 Baroque Architecture in Classical Antiquity Margaret Lyttelton, 1974 Baroque Architecture: Renaissance Lea Rawls, 2018-12-25 Baroque architecture is the building style of the Baroque era begun in late 16th century Italy that took the Roman vocabulary of Renaissance architecture and used it in a new rhetorical and theatrical fashion often to express the triumph of the Catholic Church. It was characterized by new explorations of form, light and shadow and dramatic intensity. Common features of Baroque architecture included gigantism of proportions, a large open central space where everyone could see the altar, twisting columns, theatrical effects including light coming from a cupola above, dramatic interior effects created with bronze and gilding, clusters of sculpted angels and other figures high overhead, and an extensive use of trompe l'oeil also called quadratura with painted architectural details and figures on the walls and ceiling to increase the dramatic and theatrical effect. Whereas the Renaissance drew on the wealth and power of the Italian courts and was a blend of secular and religious forces, the Baroque was initially at least directly linked to the Counter Reformation, a movement within the Catholic Church to reform itself in response to the Protestant Reformation. Baroque architecture and its embellishments were on the one hand more accessible to the emotions and on the other hand a visible statement of the wealth and power of the Catholic Church. The new style manifested itself in particular in the context of the new religious orders like the Theatines and the Jesuits who aimed to improve popular piety. Lutheran Baroque art such as the example of Dresden Frauenkirche (1726-1743) developed as a confessional marker of identity in response to the Great Iconoclasm of Calvinists. The architecture of the High Roman Baroque can be assigned to the papal reigns of Urban VIII, Innocent X and Alexander VII spanning from 1623 to 1667. The three principal architects of this period were the sculptor Gianlorenzo Bernini, Francesco Borromini, and the painter Pietro da Cortona, and each evolved his own distinctively individual architectural expression. Dissemination of Baroque architecture to the south of Italy resulted in regional variations such as Sicilian Baroque architecture or that of Naples and Lecce. To the north, the Theatine architect Camillo Guarino Guarini, Bernardo Vittone, and Sicilian-born Filippo Juvarra contributed Baroque buildings to the city of Turin and the Piedmont region. A synthesis of Bernini, Borromini, and Cortona's architecture can be seen in the late Baroque architecture of northern Europe which paved the way for the more decorative Rococo style. By the middle of the 17th century, the Baroque style had found its secular expression in the form of grand palaces, first in France with the Chateau de Maisons (1642) near Paris by Francois Mansart, and then throughout Europe. During the 17th century, Baroque architecture spread through Europe and Latin America where it was particularly promoted by the Jesuits. Territorial Investigations Annette W. Balkema, Henk Slager, 1999. Nowadays there are many spaces of fascination in visual art. Of course, installative space and contextual space have been on the art scene for awhile. However, they are now accompanied by other spaces such as urban space, architectural space, cyberspace, hyperspace, and screen-based space. In this volume, architects, artists, theorists, three symposia and four exhibitions attempt to find answers to questions such as Could the architectonic study and or deconstruction of space play a decisive role in the shift of attention to space Which theoretical factors structure the current experience and meaning of space What is the role of the aesthetization of the environment on our concept of space Smooth Space VCC de Brakke Grond Amsterdam is a project at the heart of this publication Spatial interests range from how the concept of space is redefined and exploited in our current visual culture to how the digital world influences our spatial concepts Participants in this issue are Jean Attali Annette W Balkema Andrew Benjamin Ole Bouman Bernard Cache Paul Crowther Christoph Fink Hugo Heyrman Hou Hanru Rem Koolhaas Geert Lovink Karlheinz L deking Bartomeu Mari Kas Oosterhuis Jan van de Pavert Keiko Sato Eran Schaerf Lara Schnitger Roger Scruton Martin Seel Nasrine Seraji Henk Slager Sjoerd Soeters Lars Spuybroek Ann Van Sevenant Peter Weibel and Mark Wigley
