

Ecological Stoichiometry

A balance scale is the central visual element, set against a green-to-black gradient background. The scale is tilted, with the right pan being lower. It has three pans. The top-left pan is the smallest and contains a forest scene. The middle pan is larger and contains a single tree. The bottom-right pan is the largest and contains a forest scene. The scale's beam and weights are dark, and the pans are metallic and reflective.
