Apocalyptic World Of D H Lawrence:

The Apocalyptic World of D.H. Lawrence Peter Fjågesund, 1991 Fjagesund argues that traditional apocalypticism or the dialectic between forces of destruction and visions of utopian renewal forms the mental framework of Lawrence's writings from the First World War onwards After an introductory chapter on Lawrence's view of history the author shows how apocalyptic extremes dominate the various periods of his career from the general sense of doom during the war via the utopian quest of the early 1920s to the dual vision of the final years The book sheds new light on crucial passages of the major prose works by relating them more directly than has previously been done to cultural and political movements on the Continent As a result Lawrence emerges as a cosmopolitan writer whose visions and ideas can only be properly understood in a European context

Apocalypse and the Writings on Revelation D. H. Lawrence, 1995 Apocalypse is D H Lawrence's last book written during the winter of 1929-30 when he was dying It is a radical criticism of our civilisation and a statement of Lawrence's unwavering belief in man's power to create a new heaven and a new earth Ranging over the entire system of his thought on God and man on religion art psychology and politics this book is Lawrence's final attempt to convey his vision of man and the universe Apocalypse was published after Lawrence's death and in a highly inaccurate text This edition is the first to reproduce accurately Lawrence's final corrected text on the basis of a thorough examination of the surviving manuscript and typescript In the introduction the editor has discussed the writing of Apocalypse and its place in Lawrence's works its publication and reception and the significance of Lawrence's other writings on the Book of Revelation

British Modernism and the Anthropocene David Shackleton, 2023-07-14 British Modernism and the Anthropocene Experiments with Time assesses the environmental politics of modernism in relation to the idea of the Anthropocene a proposed geological epoch in which humans have fundamentally changed the Earth System The early twentieth century was marked by environmental transformations that were so complex and happened on such great scales that they defied representation Modernist novelists responded with a range of innovative narrative forms that started to make environmental crisis on a planetary scale visible Paradoxically however it is their failures to represent such a crisis that achieve the greatest success David Shackleton explores how British modernists employed types of narrative breakdown including fragmentation and faltering passages devoid of events to expose the limitations of human schemes of meaning negotiate the relationship between different scales and types of time produce knowledge of ecological risk and register various forms of non human agency Situating modernism in the context of fossil fuel energy systems plantation monocultures climate change and species extinctions Shackleton traces how H G Wells D H Lawrence Olive Moore Virginia Woolf and Jean

Rhys undertook experiments with time in their novels that refigure history and the historical situations into which they were thrown Ultimately British Modernism and the Anthropocene shows how modernist novels provide rich resources for rethinking the current environmental crisis and cultivating new structures of environmental care and concern

The English Modernist Novel as Political Theology Charles Andrews, 2024-01-11 A 2024 CHOICE OUTSTANDING ACADEMIC TITLE novels by Virginia Woolf D H Lawrence Evelyn Waugh and Sylvia Townsend Warner as political theology works that imagine a resistance to the fusion of Christianity and patriotism which fuelled and supported the First World War this book shows how we can gain valuable insights from their works for anti militarist anti statist and anti nationalist efforts today While none of the four novelists in this study were committed Christians during the 1920s Andrews explores how their fiction written in the wake of the First World War operates theologically when it challenges English civil religion the rituals of the nation that elevate the state to a form of divinity Bringing these novels into a dialogue with recent political theologies by theorists and theologians including Giorgio Agamben William Cavanaugh Simon Critchley Michel Foucault Stanley Hauerwas and Jürgen Moltmann this book shows the myriad ways that we can learn from the authors theopolitical imaginations Andrews demonstrates the many ways that these novelists issue a challenge to the problems with civil religion and the sacralized nation state and in so doing offer alternative visions to coordinate our inner lives with our public and collective actions

D.H. Lawrence and Literary Genres Simonetta De Filippis,Nick Ceramella,2004 D. H. Lawrence Studies ,1999 Encyclopedia of Apocalyptic Literature Valerie P. Zimbaro,1996 This text which is by no means inclusive of all of the world s apocalyptic writings is intended both as an introduction to this timely literary genre as well as a tribute to the world s major authors whose prose and poetry reflect their respective hopes dreams and fears for the world s last days Although the book is intended to address apocalyptic literature across cultures there is a significant dearth of material related to works by writers from Eastern cultures This omission is an obvious one inasmuch as the concept of an apocalypse or a singular cataclysmic ending is essentially antithetical to most cyclical Eastern philosophies In an attempt to analyze such apocalyptic themes of either non Western primitive or pre literate cultures a list of entries pertaining to significant apocalyptic myths legends and scriptures has been provided in appendix D
