Saladin, 2025-10-01 In the early modern period members of the Society of Jesus working as missionaries in the so called mission of Maynas explored vast areas of the upper Amazon These missionaries belonged to the very small group of Europeans who lived in the forests of the Amazon Basin for longer periods in close contact with local people Their daily experiences in the mission their high level of education and their connection with the institutional structures of the Jesuit order made them key figures in the production of knowledge about the Amazon Irina Saladin investigates the complex relationships between mission and knowledge in the context of seventeenth and eighteenth century Jesuit maps She analyzes how Jesuit missionary practices shaped the cartographic representation of the Amazon in the early modern era

The writing style is neither formalistic nor casual with an emphasis on clarity of explanation. The discussions assume that the reader has no specific prior knowledge of the topic so that even novice map users can understand and use the information and techniques presented.

Paperbound Books in Print, 1992     A Practical Guide to Aerial Photography with an Introduction to Surveying J.A. Ciciarelli, 1991-06-30

The aim of this book and the rationale behind writing it are twofold and are born of experience in working in the field with geologists, builders, landscapers and people in the construction and building trades in general. This author in his capacity as a geologist, air photo interpreter and surveyor has been asked to consult on very simple tasks that should be a part of the general knowledge of nearly everyone in the building trades. There is a definite and clear need for a short, simple, well-illustrated and concise book that treats problems encountered every day by people in the field and for training such people. This is such a book. The primary aim of the book then is not to write about new knowledge in the areas of photogrammetry or mathematics or to discuss the latest procedures in using complex electrooptical surveying devices but to give the common everyday worker in the field and there are many of them some assistance and guidance.

Bibliographic Guide to Maps and Atlases, 1990     Scientific and Technical Books and Serials in Print, 1989     Books in Print, 1994     Annual Meeting - Association of Engineering Geologists Association of Engineering Geologists, 1988     Catalogue of Marshall College, State Normal School, Huntington, W. Colours make the map; they affect the map's materiality, content and handling. With a wide range of approaches, 14 case studies from various disciplines deal with the colouring of maps from different geographical regions and periods. Connected by their focus on the hand colouring of the examined maps, the authors demonstrate the potential of the study of colour to enhance our understanding of the material nature and production of maps and the historical, social, geographical and political context in which they were made.
