Architect Meets Architects:

When Architecture Meets Activism Roger Guy, 2016-11-22 This social history and community study documents the events surrounding the attempt by community members activists and VISTA architects to resist the planned construction of a community college in the neighborhood of Uptown The planner and architect are seldom envisioned as advocates for the urban poor However during the 1960s New Left planners and architects began working with marginalized groups in cities to design alternatives to urban renewal projects This was part of a national advocacy planning movement that was taking shape in urban areas like Chicago Inspired by critics of the Rational comprehensive model of planning advocacy planners opposed the imposition of projects on neighborhoods often with no collaboration from residents One example of this resistance was Hank Williams Village a multi purpose housing and commercial redevelopment project modeled after a southern town The Village was an attempt to prevent the displacement of thousands of southern whites by the planned construction of a community college in Chicago s Uptown neighborhood While the plan for the Village failed to win support of the local urban renewal board the work performed by the young VISTA architects became instrumental in their subsequent career trajectories and thus served as formative personal and professional experience

Applied Psychology of Architecture Karel Smejkal, 2022-01-01 The first book on the psychology of architecture During ten years the author met architects from more than 140 countries but there was not one among them who could answer the question of what is the psychology of architecture So he decided to return to university assemble a research team in Applied Psychology of Architecture and define and establish the entire discipline for the architectural community This book is the first answer to the the above question It is also the first book to summarize three years of research on the psychology of architecture Architects create our artificial environment They should therefore know those for whom they create it And they should also know themselves Karel Smejkal is a writer architect university teacher doctor of science and head of research in the psychology of buildings at the Department of Architecture of the Czech Technical University in Prague He is also a member of the American Institute of Architects AIA founder of Applied Psychology of Architecture founder and chairman of Czech Deco Team and co founder with V clav Havel and Bo ek pek and president of INSPIRELI AWARDS the world s largest student architectural competition

Architect, 1876 Deleuze and Architecture Helene Frichot, 2013-05-31 This collection looks critically at how Deleuze challenges architecture as a discipline how architecture contributes to philosophy and how we can come to understand the complex politics of space of our increasingly networked world American Architect, 1907 Structures and Architecture Paulo J. Cruz, 2013-06-27 Although the disciplines of architecture and structural engineering have both experienced their own historical development their interaction has resulted in many fascinating and delightful structures To take this interaction to a higher level there is a need to stimulate the inventive and creative design of architectural structures and to persuade

When Eero Met His Match Eva Hagberg, 2022-09-13 A uniquely personal biographical account of Louchheim's life and work that takes readers inside the rarified world of architecture media Aline B Louchheim 1914-1972 was an art critic on assignment for the New York Times in 1953 when she first met the Finnish American architect Eero Saarinen She would become his wife and the driving force behind his rise to critical prominence When Eero Met His Match draws on the couple's personal correspondence to reconstruct the early days of their thrilling courtship and traces Louchheim's gradual takeover of Saarinen's public narrative in the 1950s the decade when his career soared to unprecedented heights Drawing on her own experiences as an architecture journalist on the receiving end of press pitches and then as a secret publicist for high end architects Eva Hagberg paints an unforgettable portrait of Louchheim while revealing the inner workings of a media world that has always relied on secrecy friendship and the exchange of favors She describes how Louchheim codified the practices of architectural publicity that have become widely adopted today and shows how without Louchheim as his wife and publicist Saarinen's work would not have been nearly as well known Providing a new understanding of postwar architectural history in the United States When Eero Met His Match is both a poignant love story and a superb biographical study that challenges us to reconsider the relationship between fame and media representation and the ways the narratives of others can become our own

Europe Meets America Gaia Caramellino, 2016-08-17 An analysis of the New York professional milieu between the Wall Street Crash of 1929 and the aftermath of WWII reveals an unexpected scenario in which diverse branches of technical culture and professional and institutional spheres often overlap and initiatives in the field of architecture are characterised by tensions between designers and technicians which pave the way for issues of architects autonomy responsibility and social roles in the New Deal From an initial portrayal of William Lescaze 1896-1969 as an unconventional figure straddling two continents this book challenges a long established interpretation that sees Lescaze exclusively as promoter of the International Style canons in the United States Moving beyond it this book focuses on the role that the Swiss architect played in defining the main features of New York social housing and in the evolution that marks the encounter between European modernity and an American federal scene still profoundly tied to local conventions From an initially difficult status as a migrant to his involvement in decisional processes and bureaucratic organisations Lescaze's professional progress coincides with the gradual acceptance of European forms and models which little by little became part of the institutional language related to public housing which would remain prevalent in New York City until the end of WWII Drawing from yet unpublished archival sources pertaining to two fields housing and architecture which have traditionally been separate in American historiography this book sheds light on many crucial issues in a branch of architecture that is particularly relevant today
