Argumentation As Communication:

Argumentation, Communication, and Fallacies Frans H. van Eemeren, Rob Grootendorst, 2016-07-22 This volume gives a theoretical account of the problem of analyzing and evaluating argumentative discourse After placing argumentation in a communicative perspective and then discussing the fallacies that occur when certain rules of communication are violated the authors offer an alternative to both the linguistically inspired descriptive and logically inspired normative approaches to argumentation The authors characterize argumentation as a complex speech act in a critical discussion aimed at resolving a difference of opinion The various stages of a critical discussion are outlined and the communicative and interactional aspects of the speech acts performed in resolving a simple or complex dispute are discussed After dealing with crucial aspects of analysis and linking the evaluation of argumentative discourse to the analysis the authors identify the fallacies that can occur at various stages of discussion Their general aim is to elucidate their own pragma dialectical perspective on the analysis and evaluation of argumentative discourse bringing together pragmatic insight concerning speech acts and dialectical insight concerning critical discussion

A Theory of Argumentation Charles Arthur Willard, 2003-07-03 Establishes a theoretical context for and to elaborate the implications of the claim that argument is a form of interaction in which two or more people maintain what they construe to be incompatible positions The thesis of this book is that argument is not a kind of logic but a kind of communication conversation based on disagreement Claims about the epistemic and political effects of argument get their authority not from logic but from their fit with the facts about how communication works A Theory of Communication thus offers a picture of communication distilled from elements of symbolic interactionism personal construct theory constructivism and Barbara O Keefe s provocative thinking about logics of message design The picture of argument that emerges from this tapestry is startling for it forces revisions in thinking about knowledge rationality freedom fallacies and the structure and content of the argumentation discipline Critical
