Architects Brother:

The Architect's Brother Robert ParkeHarrison,William Stanley Merwin,2000 Robert ParkeHarrison creates constructed photographs which tell stories of loss struggle and personal exploration within landscapes scarred by technology and over use He attempts to metaphorically and poetically link his laborious actions idiosyncratic rituals and strangely crude machines into tales about our modern experience The mythic world he creates mirrors our world where nature is domesticated and controlled The scenes display futile attempts to save or rejuvenate nature His everyman character patches holes in the sky creates rain machines chases storms to create electricity communicates with the earth to learn its needs Within these scenes he creates less refined less scientific more ritualistic and poetic possibilities to work with nature rather than destroying it The nature of his images and the process of their construction are interdisciplinary embodying aspects of theater sculpture and painting photography and performance None of the images are real in the factual sense but they are treated as precious talismans of a lost moment a documented super reality whose message like that of a myth transcends the small realities of the day to day world

The Architect's Brother Robert ParkeHarrison,William Stanley Merwin,2000 This book is a companion to Volume 8 General Engineering Knowledge in the Reed s Marine Engineering Series and is based on the DoT syllabus of Engineering Knowledge for the Class 2 and Class 1 Engineers Steam Certificates and Steam Endorsements It includes a selection of questions of the type set in the exams for Class 2 and Class 1 Engineers
