Architectural Representation And The Perspective Hinge:

Architectural Representation and the Perspective Hinge Alberto Pérez Gómez, Louise Pelletier, 1997 The authors focus on the implications of the tool of perspective for architectural representation arguing that tools of representation have a direct influence on the conceptual development of projects and generation of forms Architectural Representation and the Perspective Hinge Alberto Pérez-Gómez, Louise Pelletier, 2000 The relationship between the architectural representation and its intended product a building has undergone a profound transformation over the centuries Before the age of modern technology the systematically predictive role of architectural drawing so taken for granted today was less dominant in the evolution from architectural idea to built work The age of computer aided design has brought with it a stricter standard of fidelity However contemporary architecture need not simply accept the inevitability of a technological imperative This book demonstrates that representation is never a neutral tool or mere picture of a future building Design Representation Gabriela Goldschmidt, William L. Porter, 2007-05-28 there is a global network of academics researchers and methodologists who will buy this book or want it in their institute libraries Prof John Harbraken As the field of human computer interaction grows this book is likely to be a basic resource Prof Chuck Eastman Design representation is necessary for all design activity You will gain a guide to both theory and practical application in this discussion of representation as it occurs during the process of design Goldschmidt and Porter give you perspectives on representational issues in design that are both informative and evocative of further inquiry The unique interdisciplinary approach brings a new dimension to the study of representation benefiting the global network of researchers students and practitioners in all areas of design Rather than addressing the larger framework directly a series of smaller case studies are presented each dealing with aspects of representation in architecture and engineering Binding together historical cultural cognitive social and technological perspectives eliminates the need for further reading Innovative research methods based on numerous well illustrated examples will leave you with new ideas to build on International contributors focus on worldwide research activities offering you more than just an expansion of a single viewpoint Design Representation delves into the common roots of representation in all design disciplines through case studies historical investigations theoretical constructs and programming If you are involved in any design activity this will be a truly exciting addition to your bookshelf The Routledge Companion to Criticality in Art, Architecture, and Design Chris Brisbin, Myra Thiessen, 2018-10-03 The Routledge Companion to Criticality in Art Architecture and Design presents an in depth exploration of criticism and criticality in theory and practice across the disciplines of art architecture and design Professional criticism is a vital part of understanding the cultural significance of designed objects and environments that we engage with on a daily basis yet there is evidence to show that this practice is changing This edited volume investigates how practitioners researchers educators and professionals engage with think about and value the practice of critique With contributions from a multi disciplinary authorship from nine countries the UK USA Australia India Netherlands Switzerland South Africa Belgium and Denmark this companion provides a wide range of leading perspectives evaluating the landscape of criticality and how it is being shaped by technological and social advances Illustrated with over 60 black and white images and structured into five sections The Routledge Companion to Criticality in Art Architecture and Design is a comprehensive volume for researchers educators and students exploring the changing role of criticism through interdisciplinary perspectives Drawing on Architecture Jordan Kauffman, 2019-03-19 How architectural drawings emerged as aesthetic objects promoted by a network of galleries collectors and institutions and how this changed the understanding of architecture Prior to the 1970s buildings were commonly understood to be the goal of architectural practice architectural drawings were seen simply as a means to an end But just as the boundaries of architecture itself were shifting at the end of the twentieth century the perception of architectural drawings was also shifting they began to be seen as autonomous objects outside the process of building In Drawing on Architecture Jordan Kauffman offers an account of how architectural drawings promoted by a network of galleries and collectors exhibitions and events emerged as aesthetic objects and ultimately attained status as important cultural and historical artifacts and how this was both emblematic of changes in architecture and a catalyst for these changes Kauffman traces moments of critical importance to the evolution of the perception of architectural drawings beginning with exhibitions that featured architectural drawings displayed in ways that did not elucidate buildings but treated them as meaningful objects in their own right When architectural drawings were seen as having intrinsic value they became collectible and Kauffman chronicles early collectors galleries and sales He discusses three key exhibitions at the Leo Castelli Gallery in New York other galleries around the world that specialized in architectural drawings the founding of architecture museums that understood and collected drawings as important cultural and historical artifacts and the effect of the new significance of architectural drawings on architecture and architectural history Drawing on Architecture includes interviews with more than forty people directly involved with the events described and on extensive archival research Kauffman shows how architectural drawings became the driving force in architectural debate in an era of change Timely Meditations, Vol. 1 Alberto Perez-Gomez, Saidye Rosner Bronfman professor Director of the History and Theory of Architecture Program Alberto Perez-Gomez, 2016-07-05 This remarkable collection brings together a selection of essays by Alberto Perez-Gomez originally published in diverse periodicals and as chapters in books over a period of twenty five years The essays have been revised and updated by the author sometimes substantially modified to reflect more accurately the state of contemporary questions in the field of architecture While the writing deliberately blurs the edges of history and theory the essays have been collected in two separate volumes the first focusing on architectural theories and practices both historical and recent and the second on more general aspects of architectural philosophy The untimeliness of these texts on architecture history and philosophy is a welcome departure from today's incessant demand for timely innovation These articles engage with central and marginal figures from architecture's past converse with contemporaries who hold a sympathetic stance and engage diverse philosophical positions. The essays draw from other fields of inquiry: philosophy, theatre, literature, art, dance, and neuroscience to name a few. It is through these interdisciplinary conversations and the questions they generate that the works manifest their full power, rendering visible many currently ignored issues. Against some of our most assured convictions and protocols, Perez Gomez consistently seeks meaningful sites in which to renegotiate the architect's task of imagining the world otherwise. This is done without affectation or pretense, acknowledging the task's difficulty in our late modern world. By joining past, present, and future, the texts offer their gift: the hopeful shaping of a time to come. This remarkable collection is a testament to three decades of thinking whose untimeliness will challenge and reward readers placing the search for dwelling, belonging, and love at the heart of architecture. Foreword by Peter Olshavsky. Spaces of Tolerance Igea Troiani, Suzanne Ewing, 2021-03-29. Spaces of Tolerance addresses the topic of tolerance in architectural production. Through examining the boundaries of where discourses, practices, and designs are considered publishable, suitable to be made public, or not, the book exposes criteria and cultures which censor architecture so as to offer ways that architecture can be more inclusive and diverse for society at large. The contributors to the book discuss disciplinary tolerances and constraints related to architecture and its interdisciplinary exchanges and modes of working: physical, spatial, temporal, and digital tolerance in material assemblages and production between drawing and building, and social, cultural, and political tolerance and threats contingent on geography and history. This timely book aims to look at extremities, margins, and marginality to explore acceptable levels and their fluctuations in deviation and divergence. Chapters in the book involve ungendering, unacculturating in disciplinary terms, and diversifying the architectural practitioner, writer, editor, reviewer, and reader, and retooling the instruments and tactics of architectural practice and theory. They argue that tolerance in interdisciplinary research in architecture can cultivate more diverse and productive conversations. The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of the journal Architecture and Culture. Disclosing Horizons Nicholas Temple, 2006-11-22. This study examines the influence of perspective on architecture, highlighting how critical historical changes in the representation and perception of space continue to inform the way architects design. Since its earliest developments, perspective was conceived as an exemplary form of representation that served as an ideal model of how everyday existence could be measured and ultimately judged. Temple argues that underlying the symbolic and epistemological meanings of perspective, there prevails a deeply embedded redemptive view of the world that is deemed perfectible. Temple explores this idea through a genealogical investigation of the cultural and philosophical contexts of perspective throughout history, highlighting how these developments influenced architectural thought. This broad historical enquiry is accompanied by a series of case studies of modern or contemporary buildings, each demonstrating a particular affinity with the accompanying historical model of perspective. Architecture, Competitions and the Production of Culture, Quality and Knowledge Jean-Pierre Chupin, Carmela Cucuzzella, Bechara Helal, 2015-01-26.
