

« L'ouvrage est de la main de M. de Jussieu, et les figures des végétaux sont toutes les parties de leur organisation, il ne se contente pas de quelques caractères distinctifs, comme les autres systèmes; il applique à un grand nombre de végétaux, les caractères ayant pour objet de donner une vue et peut-être un aperçu des plantes. En se consultant le système de Linnæus, qui donne un moyen facile pour savoir le nom d'une plante par les caractères qui leur sont assignés, il est nécessaire d'en connaître les classes et les ordres, et de se familiariser avec tous les ouvrages écrits sur ces principes.

Le système de Linnæus se fonde sur les organes sexuels. Les étamines, qui sont les parties mâles, servent à la formation des étamines, et les pistils, qui sont les parties femelles, sont employées avec préférence à déterminer les ordres.
