challenged the power of Western nation states not from without but from within their frontiers The book s focus remains predominately on Western societies and the nationalist movements of nations against states The essays in this book are detailed and innovative and analyse nationalism through theory methodology and empirical evidence The book s use of research methods deepens the comparative explanation of nationalist movements and advances understanding of Western nationalisms as social movements and examples of social change in the developed world This book will appeal to social scientists in political science and sociology

Reading The Shape Of The World Henry Schwarz,1996-05-23 This collection extends the boundaries of cultural studies beyond its current Euro American emphasis It takes readers on a wide ranging journey from the stock market to Islamic law from the African household to the Soviet apartment from the nuances of nationalism to the rude noises of capitalistic rhetoric introducing readers to the social and historical forces that shape textual practice The essays are richly imaginative and empirically detailed ingeniously connecting regional debates and local dynamics to universal global issues Finally Reading The Shape of the World reconfigures cultural studies theories and methodologies resulting in a fresh and empowering approach to this dynamic field of inquiry At the heart of this study is the optimistic belief that reading still matters that the world can be shaped by reading and that critical practices of reading can transform the contours of social life

Gender, Nationalism and Conflict Transformation Fidelma Ashe,2019-03-07 Utilising Northern Ireland as a case study this book presents an analysis of the gender and sexual politics of conflict transformation The book synthesises a vast array of international sources with the author s empirical and theoretical research to produce a powerful gendered critique of conflict transformation in Northern Ireland It maps the negative effects of the region s violent conflict on gender and sexual equality and explores the potential of the conflict transformational processes set in motion by the 1998 Peace Agreement to transform relationships between different genders and sexualities Starting from the feminist proposition that building peace requires the inclusion of issues of gender and sexual equality the author analyses how the new institutional and semantic structures of conflict transformation in Northern Ireland preserved older conservative narratives about gender and sexuality As older narratives clashed with progressive forms of sexual and gender politics the core sites of conflict transformation became arenas of gender and sexual struggles The book outlines these struggles and charts the positive and inclusive visions of peace developed by activists throughout the period of conflict transformation This book will be of much interest to students of gender studies conflict transformation ethnic conflict peace studies and Irish politics
