Contemporary Manuscript:

Early Modern Women's Manuscript Poetry Jill Seal Millman, Gillian Wrigth, 2005-06-04 Early modern women's manuscript poetry is an anthology of texts by fourteen women poets writing between 1589 and 1706. It is the only currently available anthology of early modern women's writing which focuses exclusively on manuscript material. Authors include Mary Sidney, Lucy Hutchinson, and Katherine Philips, central figures in the emerging canon of early modern women writers but whose work appears in a fresh and very different light in the manuscript context emphasised by this anthology. The volume also includes substantial excerpts from a recently discovered verse paraphrase of Genesis thought to be by the previously unknown seventeenth century writer Mary Roper as well as selections from the unjustly neglected poet Hester Pulter.

Digital Humanities and the Lost Drama of Early Modern England Matthew Steggle, 2016-04-22 This book establishes new information about the likely content of ten lost plays from the period 1580-1642. These plays' authors include Nashe, Heywood, and Dekker, and the plays themselves connect in direct ways to some of the most canonical dramas of English literature, including Hamlet, King Lear, The Changeling, and The Duchess of Malfi. The lost plays in question are Terminus (Richard the Confessor, 1593), Cutlack (1594), Bellendon (1594), Truth's Supplication to Candlelight (1600), Albere Galles (1602), Henry the Unc (1619), The Angel King (1624), The Duchess of Fernandina (c. 1630), 42, and The Cardinal's Conspiracy (before 1639). From this list of bare titles, it is argued, can be reconstructed comedies, tragedies, and histories whose leading characters included a saint, a robber, a Medici duchess, an impotent king, at least one pope, and an angel. In each case, newly available digital research resources make it possible to interrogate the title and to identify the play's subject matter, analogues, and likely genre. But these concrete examples raise wider theoretical problems: What is a lost play? What can and cannot be said about objects in this problematic category? Known lost plays from the early modern commercial theatre outnumber extant plays from that theatre, but how, in practice, can one investigate them? This book offers an innovative theoretical and practical frame for such work, putting digital humanities into action in the emerging field of lost play studies.
