Contentbased Video Retrieval A Database Perspective:

Content-Based Video Retrieval Milan Petkovic, Willem Jonker, 2013-06-29 The area of content based video retrieval is a very hot area both for research and for commercial applications In order to design effective video databases for applications such as digital libraries video production and a variety of Internet applications there is a great need to develop effective techniques for content based video retrieval One of the main issues in this area of research is how to bridge the semantic gap between low level features extracted from a video such as color texture shape motion and others and semantics that describe video concept on a higher level In this book Dr Milan Petković and Prof Dr Willem Jonker have addressed this issue by developing and describing several innovative techniques to bridge the semantic gap The main contribution of their research which is the core of the book is the development of three techniques for bridging the semantic gap 1 a technique that uses the spatio temporal extension of the Cobra framework 2 a technique based on hidden Markov models and 3 a technique based on Bayesian belief networks To evaluate performance of these techniques the authors have conducted a number of experiments using real video data The book also discusses domain solutions versus general solution of the problem Petković and Jonker proposed a solution that allows a system to be applied in multiple domains with minimal adjustments They also designed and described a prototype video database management system which is based on techniques they proposed in the book
