Catholics in the Public Square Thomas J. Olmstead, 2016 Part of The Shepherd's Voice Series The Shepherd's Voice Series brings you the current teaching of Bishops and Cardinals on vital topics facing the Catholic Church today As Catholics in the modern world we have certain responsibilities to our nation our families and ourselves What duties we owe can be a matter of considerable debate Popular culture tells us that we shouldn't speak about religion and politics in the public arena But what is our authentic role as Catholics in today's world Bishop Olmstead explains what is appropriate in today's secular world and how we should seek to influence our nation and the political process in light of our Catholic faith You will learn the answers to these important issues and more How to fight against secularization in our society and the misrepresentation of faith in public How Catholics can contribute to a culture of life What role Catholic doctrine should play in the public square What issues can ban Catholics from Holy Communion What the non negotiable issues are for Catholics involved in politics What main responsibilities Catholics have to their families Catholics in the Public Square Thomas J. History of the Catholic Total Abstinence Union of Connecticut Thomas Henry Kehoe, 1903

Evangelical Catholicism George Weigel, 2014-04-22

The Catholic Church is on the threshold of a bold new era in its two thousand year history. As the curtain comes down on the Church defined by the 16th century Counter Reformation, the curtain is rising on the Evangelical Catholicism of the third millennium, a way of being Catholic that comes from over a century of Catholic reform, a mission centered renewal honed by the Second Vatican Council and given compelling expression by Blessed John Paul II and Pope Benedict XVI. The Gospel centered Evangelical Catholicism of the future will send all the people of the Church into mission territory every day, a territory increasingly defined in the West by spiritual boredom and aggressive secularism. Confronting both these cultural challenges and the shadows cast by recent Catholic history, Evangelical Catholicism unapologetically proclaims the Gospel of Jesus Christ as the truth of the world. It also molds disciples who witness to faith, hope, and love by the quality of their lives and the nobility of their aspirations. Thus the Catholicism of the 21st century and beyond will be a culture forming counterculture offering all men and women of good will a deeply humane alternative to the soul stifling self absorption of postmodernity. Drawing on thirty years of experience throughout the Catholic world, from its humblest parishes to its highest levels of authority, George Weigel proposes a deepening of faith based and mission driven Catholic reform that touches every facet of Catholic life, from the episcopate and the papacy to the priesthood and the consecrated life, from the renewal of the lay vocation in the world to the redefinition of the Church's engagement with public life, from the liturgy to the Church's intellectual life. Lay Catholics and clergy alike should welcome the challenge of this unique moment in the Church's history. Weigel urges: Mediocrity is not an option and all Catholics, no matter what their station in life, are called to live the evangelical vocation into which they were baptized without compromise but with the joy, courage, and confidence that comes from living this side of the Resurrection.
