Japanese War Crimes and Related Topics: A Guide to Records at the National Archives United States. National Archives and Records Administration, 200? This finding aid will help researchers interested in Japanese war crimes war criminals and war crimes trials to navigate the vast holdings of the U S National Archives and Records Administration at College Park NARA It will also be useful to anyone interested in military intelligence political diplomatic economic financial social and cultural activities in the Far East during 1931 1951 as well as to those searching for information regarding Allied prisoners of war the organization functions and activities of American and Allied agencies and the Japanese occupation of countries and the American occupation of Japan While not aimed at researchers interested in the strategic and tactical military and naval history of the war in the Far East this finding aid may nevertheless be useful to those with such interests if only to identify record groups and series of records that may bear on those topics This finding aid covers records from over twenty record groups and includes materials declassified under the Japanese Imperial Government Disclosure Act of 2000 P L 106 567 as well as records that were never classified and those declassified before the passage of the Disclosure Act Because the process of identifying declassifying accessioning and processing of records under the Act is taking place as this finding is being compiled late arriving records may not be identified in this finding aid Researchers should consult the IWG Web site <http://www.archives.gov/iwg> for a complete and up to date list of records declassified under the Japanese Imperial Government Disclosure Act Federal agencies involved in the identification and declassification of relevant classified records ascertained that there were relatively few pertinent records that were still classified Most relevant records were either never classified or were declassified decades before the Act and were already in NARA s custody While this finding aid s coverage is broad it is not comprehensive Researchers may find other relevant series of records within the record groups mentioned or not mentioned Researchers are encouraged to use other finding aids and consult with NARA staff to locate records of interest In addition the National Archives at College Park holds nontextual records such as still photographs and motion pictures that researchers may want to examine Other NARA facilities hold many records and donated material related to World War II including records related to the subjects covered in this finding aid This is particularly true of the Franklin D Roosevelt the Harry S Truman and the Dwight D Think of archives as vast mountain ranges of records with the archivists guiding the expeditions Explorations on familiar well trodden paths produce new perspectives when examined with fresh eyes and imagination The Story of the Forty-Second Indiana Infantry, 1861-65. Bruce V. Jones, 2016-04-30 This book is to honor the sacrifices and courage shown by the Forty Second Indiana Infantry in their military campaigns during the Civil War from their organization in 1861 until final victory in April 1865 Battle reports Walter Karig, Judges, Volume 8

Trent C. Butler, 2017-12-12 The Word Biblical Commentary delivers the best in biblical scholarship from the leading scholars of our day who share a commitment to Scripture as divine revelation. This series emphasizes a thorough analysis of textual, linguistic, structural, and theological evidence. The result is judicious and balanced insight into the meanings of the text in the framework of biblical theology. These widely acclaimed commentaries serve as exceptional resources for the professional theologian and instructor, the seminary or university student, the working minister, and everyone concerned with building theological understanding from a solid base of biblical scholarship.

Overview of Commentary Organization
Introduction covers issues pertaining to the whole book, including context, date, authorship, composition, interpretive issues, purpose, and theology. Each section of the commentary includes Pericope Bibliography, a helpful resource containing the most important works that pertain to each particular pericope. Translation: the author's own translation of the biblical text, reflecting the end result of exegesis and attending to Hebrew and Greek idiomatic usage of words, phrases, and tenses, yet in reasonably good English. Notes: the author's notes to the translation that address any textual variants, grammatical forms, syntactical constructions, basic meanings of words, and problems of translation. Form Structure Setting: a discussion of redaction, genre, sources, and tradition as they concern the origin of the pericope, its canonical form, and its relation to the biblical and extra-biblical contexts in order to illuminate the structure and character of the pericope. Rhetorical or compositional features important to understanding the passage are also introduced here. Comment verse by verse: interpretation of the text and dialogue with other interpreters, engaging with current opinion and scholarly research. Explanation: brings together all the results of the discussion in previous sections to expose the meaning and intention of the text at several levels: 1. within the context of the book itself; 2. its meaning in the OT or NT; 3. its place in the entire canon; 4. theological relevance to broader OT or NT issues. General Bibliography: occurring at the end of each volume, this extensive bibliography contains all sources used anywhere in the commentary.

Nanking Masahiro Yamamoto, 2000-08-30 The December 1937 incident that has come to be known as the Rape of Nanking is without doubt a tragedy that will not soon be forgotten. While acknowledging that a tremendous loss of life occurred, this study challenges the current prevailing notion that the incident was a deliberate, planned effort on the part of the Japanese military and analyzes events to produce an accurate estimate of the scale of the atrocities. Drawing on Chinese, Japanese, and English sources, Yamamoto determines that what happened at Nanking were unfortunate atrocities of conventional war with precedents in both Eastern and Western military history. He concludes that post-war events such as the war crimes trials and the impact of the Holocaust in Europe affected public opinion regarding Nanking and led to a dramatic reinterpretation of events. The Rape of Nanking consisted of two distinct phases: the mass execution of prisoners of war, as well as conscription-age men who appeared to be combatants, and the delinquent acts of individual soldiers. The first phase, which occurred immediately after Nanking's fall and which claimed most of the atrocity victims, was the result of the Japanese military's attempt to clear the city of Chinese soldiers thought to be in plain clothes.

The second phase which lasted approximately six weeks was horrible but resulted in a much smaller number of fatalities. It was characterized by numerous criminal acts ranging from rape and murder to arson and theft committed by unrestrained Japanese soldiers. The root cause for both phases was the Japanese military's bureaucratic inefficiency and command irresponsibility. While both Chinese and American contemporary sources initially attributed the incident to these causes, subsequent Japanese atrocities against both military and civilian Allied personnel during World War II and evidence presented at war crimes trials would come to reshape perceptions of the Nanking events as an Asian counterpart to the Nazi Holocaust.
