Literacy in Early Childhood and Primary Education Claire McLachlan,2013 Provides a comprehensive reader friendly introduction to literacy teaching and learning exploring both theoretical underpinnings and practical strategies

Form-function Relations in Narrative Development E. Birgitta Svensson,2018-03-15 This book provides insights into the development toward narrative competence and illustrates multifaceted patterns in the developing capacity to create globally coherent narrative texts The methodology draws from both a psycholinguistic approach to narrative development systemic functional linguistics and writing pedagogy theory This book extends previous studies on narrative writing development since it provides a multifaceted window into the progression of narrative development from elementary school through secondary school and university to life as a professional journalist and writer It also shows how narrative writing development is related to the cognitive emotional psychological and social development of the individual Translation of Thought to Written Text While Composing Michel Fayol,M. Denis Alamargot, Virginia Berninger,2012-05-04 Translation of cognitive representations into written language is one of the most important processes in writing This volume provides a long awaited updated overview of the field The contributors discuss each of the commonly used research methods for studying translation theorize about the nature of the cognitive and language representations and cognitive linguistic transformation mechanisms involved in translation during writing and make the case that translation is a higher order executive function that is fundamental to the writing process The book also reviews the application of research to practice that is the translation of the research findings in education and the work world for individuals who interact with others using written language to communicate ideas This volume provides a rich resource for student theorists and empirical researchers in cognitive psychology linguistics and education and teachers and clinicians who can use the research in their work Boys and Literacy Trisha Maynard,2004-11-23 In recent years the issue of boys and literacy namely that they are worse at it compared to girls has become a key area of interest to all those concerned with the education of our children This book highlights the key factors causing this divide and discusses the implementation of new strategies to overcome it which have been the result of extensive qualitative research made by the author Trisha Maynard reports case study findings of a primary school whose staff wanted to explore and improve boys attitudes towards and attainment in literacy and in particular their difficulties with writing The book highlights issues concerning the reading and writing of stories what teachers understand by good story writing and the importance of teachers exploring boys and girls difficulties with literacy by themselves It provides significant insight into boys difficulties with writing as well as informing teachers how to find out about children s attainment An Introduction to Narrative Writing Ruth B. A Comparative Study of Writing Abilities in Two Modes at the Grade 5, 8, and 12 Levels Ian Pringle,Aviva Freedman,Ontario. Ministry of Education,Ontario. Ministry of Colleges and Universities,1985 The third of three studies involving a comparative analysis of transactional and narrative writing of selected samples of students in two Ontario districts this study addressed questions arising from the earlier studies and examined the writing skills of students in grades 5 8 and 12 Writing samples were examined for conformity to the norms of story structure and argumentation and the subject matter of the transactional writing was analyzed The level of affective development manifested in subsamples of both the stories and the arguments was rated All the papers in the sample were analyzed for syntactic complexity scores and for mechanical and conventional errors Comparisons of the first and second versions of the papers were made to assess skills in revising and editing Findings indicated the need of students to learn how to write an argument and to revise a paper Other implications were 1 that since the level of difficulty of one aspect of a writing task may decrease the lack of control in another teachers must take into account the nature of difficulties in the tasks they set students and make their assessments accordingly 2 that students at all levels should be given occasions to write narratives 3 that the model of persuasive discourse should be countered and 4 that writing strategies recommended by authorities need to be implemented EL
