Case Study 1: Generalized Anxiety Disorder

Mary is a 35-year-old woman who has been experiencing excessive worry and anxiety for the past six months. She worries about everything, from her job performance to the health of her family members. She has difficulty falling asleep at night and feels fatigued during the day. She has also been experiencing muscle tension, irritability, and difficulty concentrating. Mary's symptoms have started to interfere with her work and social life. She has seen her primary care physician, who referred her to a mental health specialist.

After an evaluation, Mary is diagnosed with generalized anxiety disorder. Her mental health specialist recommends a combination of cognitive-behavioral therapy and medication. Mary attends therapy sessions where she learns how to identify and challenge her negative thoughts and worries. She also practices relaxation techniques and mindfulness exercises. She is prescribed an antidepressant medication that helps to reduce her symptoms.

Over the next several months, Mary's symptoms improve, and she reports feeling more relaxed and less worried. She is able to sleep better at night and has more energy during the day. She continues therapy and medication management to maintain her progress.

Case Study 2: Panic Disorder

John is a 28-year-old man who has been experiencing sudden and intense panic attacks for the past year. He feels like he is having a heart attack and experiences shortness of breath, chest pain, and dizziness. The attacks come on unexpectedly and have started to interfere with his daily life. He has avoided going to social events and has stopped exercising because he is afraid of having an attack.

After an evaluation, John is diagnosed with panic disorder. His mental health specialist recommends a combination of cognitive-behavioral therapy and medication. John attends therapy sessions where he learns about panic disorder and how to manage his symptoms. He learns relaxation techniques, mindfulness exercises, and cognitive restructuring to challenge his negative thoughts about panic attacks. He is also prescribed an antidepressant medication that helps to reduce his symptoms.

Over the next several months, John's symptoms improve, and he reports feeling more in control of his panic attacks. He is able to attend social events and start exercising again. He continues therapy and medication management to maintain his progress.

Case Study 3: Social Anxiety Disorder

Sarah is a 22-year-old college student who has been experiencing intense fear and anxiety in social situations for the past three years. She is afraid of being judged or embarrassed in front of others, so she avoids social situations whenever possible. She has difficulty speaking up in class and has trouble
