Differences Ignasi De Sola-Morales, 1997-01-07 Differences brings together ten essays written over the past decade by the distinguished Spanish architect and theorist Ignasi de Sol Morales Differences brings together ten essays written over the past decade by the distinguished Spanish architect and theorist Ignasi de Sola Morales Many of the essays have never previously been translated and the author has provided a new introduction especially for this English edition Contemplating the panorama of contemporary art and architecture de Sola Morales posits that there is no one way to describe today's practice instead he concentrates on elucidating the present dynamic of contrast diversity and tension In an unorthodox pairing de Sola Morales derives his inspiration from both phenomenology and Deleuzian poststructuralism Combining these philosophical inheritances allows him to reinvokethe human subject without referring to classical humanism or announcing the death of the object His retrospective review of the disciplines of art and architecture particularly as they have developed since World War II provokes him to design draft and ultimately build a description of Modernism's lineage of subjectivity The result is a provocative construction of fluid topographies that articulate rather than depict the shaky ground on which our current artistic and architectural production rests The essays Sado masochism Criticism and Architectural Practice Topographies of Contemporary Architecture Mies van der Rohe and Minimalism Architecture and Existentialism Weak Architecture From Autonomy to Untimeliness Place Permanence or Production Difference and Limit Individualism in Contemporary Architecture High Tech Functionalism or Rhetoric The Work of Architecture in the Age of Mechanical Reproduction

Modern Architecture and the Sacred Ross Anderson, Maximilian Sternberg, 2020-11-26 This edited volume Modern Architecture and the Sacred presents a timely reappraisal of the manifold engagements that modern architecture has had with the sacred It comprises fourteen individual chapters arranged in three thematic sections Beginnings and Transformations of the Modern Sacred Buildings for Modern Worship and Semi Sacred Settings in the Cultural Topography of Modernity The first interprets the intellectual and artistic roots of modern ideas of the sacred in the post Enlightenment period and tracks the transformation of these in architecture over time The second studies the ways in which organized religion responded to the challenges of the new modern self understanding and then the third investigates the ways that abstract modern notions of the sacred have been embodied in the ersatz sacred contexts of theatres galleries memorials and museums While centring on Western architecture during the decisive period of the first half of the 20th century a time that takes in the early musings on spirituality by some of the avant garde in defiance of Sachlichkeit and the machine aesthetic the volume also considers the many varied appropriations of sacrality that architects have made up to the present day and also in social and cultural contexts beyond the West

John Ruskin and the Fabric of Architecture Anuradha Chatterjee, 2017-10-02 Through the theoretical lenses of dress studies gender science and visual studies this volume analyses the impact John Ruskin has had on architecture throughout the nineteenth and twentieth centuries It explores Ruskin's different ideologies such as the adorned wall veil which were instrumental in bringing focus to structures that were previously unconsidered. John Ruskin and the Fabric of Architecture examines the ways in which Ruskin perceives the evolution of architecture through the idea that architecture is surface. The creative act in architecture analogous to the divine act of creation was viewed as a form of dressing. By adding highly aesthetic features to designs taking inspiration from the veil of women's clothing, Ruskin believed that buildings could be transformed into meaningful architecture. This volume discusses the importance of Ruskin's surface theory and the myth of feminine architecture and additionally presents a competing theory of textile analogy in architecture based on morality and gender to counter Gottfried Semper's historicist perspective. This book would be beneficial to students and academics of architectural history and theory, gender studies and visual studies who wish to delve into Ruskin's theories and to further understand his capacity for thinking beyond the historical methods. The book will also be of interest to architectural practitioners, particularly Ruskin's theory of surface architecture.

Political Theory and Architecture Duncan Bell, Bernardo Zacka, 2020-02-20. What can political theory teach us about architecture and what can it learn from paying closer attention to architecture? The essays assembled in this volume begin from a common postulate that architecture is not merely a backdrop to political life but a political force in its own right. Each in their own way they aim to give countenance to that claim and to show how our thinking about politics can be enriched by reflecting on the built environment. The collection advances four lines of inquiry probing the connection between architecture and political regimes, examining how architecture can be constitutive of the ethical and political realm, uncovering how architecture is enmeshed in logics of governmentality and in the political economy of the city and asking to what extent we can think of architecture tributary as it is to the flows of capital as a partially autonomous social force. Taken together, the essays demonstrate the salience of a range of political theoretical approaches for the analysis of architecture and show that architecture deserves a place as an object of study in political theory alongside institutions, laws, norms, practices, imaginaries and discourses.

Architecture Theory since 1968 K. Michael Hays, 2000-02-28. An anthology of the pivotal theoretical texts that have defined architecture culture in the late twentieth century. In the discussion of architecture there is a prevailing sentiment that since 1968 cultural production in its traditional sense can no longer be understood to rise spontaneously as a matter of social course but must now be constructed through ever more self-conscious theoretical procedures. The development of interpretive modes of various stripes: post-structuralist, Marxian, phenomenological, psychoanalytic as well as others dissenting or eccentric has given scholars a range of tools for rethinking architecture in relation to other fields and for reasserting architecture's general importance in intellectual discourse. This anthology presents forty-seven of the primary texts of architecture theory, introducing each with an explication of the concepts and categories necessary for its understanding and evaluation. It also presents twelve documents of projects or events that had major theoretical repercussions for the period. Several of the essays appear here in English for the first time. Contributors: Diana
