Golden Aging Maurizio Bussolo, Johannes Koettl, Emily Sinnott, 2015-06-23 Compared to other regions Europe and Central Asia are by far the oldest Moreover population aging is set to accelerate further over the coming decades as large segments turn old Additionally some countries such as Russia and certain Eastern European countries are facing a shrinkage of their population Against this backdrop this report investigates what stands in the way of societies reaping the full benefits of increased longevity that is longer lives and potentially prolonged payoffs from human capital and what can help to mitigate the possible negative impacts of a smaller and older workforce Beginning with a focus on demographic trends the report puts the rapid decline in fertility and contrasting migration trends in the region in a historical perspective and looks forward to the varying paths that population change may follow in the region Next it examines the evidence on the likely impact of demographic change on growth and savings the labor force firm and economy wide innovation poverty and inequality and intergenerational solidarity Finally the report goes beyond diagnostics and puts an emphasis on what we know regarding successful policy interventions presenting evidence on what has and has not worked in the past Publisher description

Rising Power, Limited Influence Indrajit Roy, Jappe Eckhardt, Dimitrios Stroikos, Simona Davidescu, 2024 China's resurgence has spawned anxieties about an impending revision of the Liberal International Order Drawing on case studies of Chinese investments across Europe the contributors to this volume investigate the ways in which China translates its growing resources into effective influence with varying degrees of success

The Spiralling of the Securitisation of Migration in the European Union Valeria Bello, Sarah Léonard, 2023-03-31 This book investigates how migration has been transformed into a security threat in Europe It argues that this process has taken place through a self fulfilling spiralling process which involves different actors and their specific narratives practices and policies The book examines how situations stemming from the so called migration crisis in the European Union EU have been dealt with by governments and non governmental organisations It also considers how actors treating migration as an ordinary phenomenon rather than a threat and sharing inclusive narratives can create the conditions for decelerating and eventually stopping securitisation processes Some chapters examine the spiralling of the securitisation of migration in depth by analysing increases in securitisation as well as cases characterised by resistance Others focus on examining the consequences of socially constructing migration as a crisis for the EU's relations with third countries In sum this book shows that there is a wide range of motives for which states and societies would benefit from a change in migration politics and move from the current management of a crisis to a more positive governance of human mobility It will be of interest to researchers and advanced students of sociology politics international relations social and cultural anthropology human geography and social work This book was originally published as a special issue of the Journal of Ethnic and Migration Studies
