The Confessions of an Individualist William Henry Chamberlin, 1940 The Confessions of an Individualist, by William Henry Chamberlin William Henry Chamberlin, 1941 The Confession of an Individualist William Henry Chamberlin, 1940 Pamphlets on American-Soviet Relations, 1921 Digesting Femininities Natalie Jovanovski, 2017-07-18 This volume addresses how the rhetoric of feminist empowerment has been combined with mainstream representations of food thus creating a cultural consciousness around food and eating that is unmistakably pathological Throughout Natalie Jovanovski discusses key texts written by women for women best selling diet books popular cookbooks produced by female food celebrities and iconic feminist self help texts This is the first book to engage in a feminist analysis of body policing food trends that focus specifically on the use of feminist rhetoric as a harmful aspect of food culture There is a smorgasbord of seemingly diverse gender roles for women to choose from but many encourage breaking gender norms and embracing a love of food while perpetuating old narratives of guilt and restraint Digesting Femininities problematizes the gendering of food and eating and challenges the reader to imagine what a genderless and emancipatory food culture would look like The Harvard Graduates' Magazine William Roscoe Thayer, William Richards Castle (Jr.), Arthur Stanwood Pier, 1895 The Japanese Novel of the Meiji Period and the Ideal of Individualism Janet A. Walker, 2019-01-29 The Western ideal of individualism had a pervasive influence on the culture of the Meiji period in Japan 1868 1912 Janet Walker argues that this ideal also had an important influence on the development of the modern Japanese novel Focusing on the work of four late Meiji writers she analyzes their contribution to the development of a type of novel whose aim was the depiction of the modern Japanese individual Professor Walker suggests that Meiji novels of the individual provided their readers with mirrors in which to confront their new found sense of individuality Her treatment of these novels as confessions allows her to discuss the development of modern Japanese literature and the modern literary self both in themselves and as they compare their prototypes and analogues in European literature The author begins by examining the evolution of a literary concept of the inner self in Futabatei Shimei's novel Ukigumo The Floating Clouds Kitamura Tokoku's essays on the inner life and Tayama Katai's I novel Futon The Quilt She devotes the second half of her book to Shimazaki Toson the Meiji novelist who was most influenced by the ideal of individualism Here she traces Toson's development of a personal ideal of selfhood and analyzes in detail two examples of the lengthy confessional novel form that he created as a vehicle for its expression Janet A Walker is Associate Professor of Comparative Literature at Livingston College Rutgers University Originally published in 1979 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of Fanning, Charles Brodie Patterson, 1896     Bulletin, 1905 Includes its Proceedings 1919     Levinas and Analytic Philosophy Michael Fagenblat, Melis Erdur, 2019-11-27 This volume examines the relevance of Emmanuel Levinas's work to recent developments in analytic philosophy Contemporary analytic philosophers working in metaethics the philosophy of mind and the metaphysics of personal identity have argued for views similar to those espoused by Levinas Often disparately pursued Levinas's account of ethics as first philosophy affords a way of connecting these respective enterprises and showing how moral normativity enters into the structure of rationality and personal identity In metaethics the volume shows how Levinas's moral phenomenology relates to recent work on the normativity of rationality and intentionality and how it can illuminate a wide range of moral concepts including accountability moral intuition respect conscience attention blame indignity shame hatred dependence gratitude and guilt The volume also tests Levinas's innovative claim that ethical relations provide a way of accounting for the irreducibility of personal identity to psychological identity The essays here contribute to ongoing discussions about the metaphysical significance and sustainability of a naturalistic but nonreductive account of personhood Finally the volume connects Levinas's second person standpoint with analogous developments in moral philosophy     The Confessional Principle and the Confessions of the Lutheran Church Theodore Emanuel Schmauk, Charles Theodore Benze, 1911     The Philosophy of Individualism Individualist bookshop limited, London, 1927     Dictionary Catalog of the Research Libraries of the New York Public Library, 1911-1971 New York Public Library.
