Conflict Resolved? Alan Tidwell, 2001-11-28 This work raises questions on whether and how to effectively resolve conflict Taking stock of the ideas assumptions and practices of this emerging field the book provides an examination of conflict theory and practice focusing on politics and international relations as well as biology culture management psychology and social psychology Central to its thesis is the interaction between the skills of resolving conflict and societal pressures for conflict s continuation Conflict resolution is a growth area of study its methods are applicable in domestic violence as well as in attempts to secure world peace This text is written in a deliberately provocative way which does not include every side to an argument

From Conflict Resolution to Reconciliation Yaacov Bar-Siman-Tov, 2004-01-08 This volume represents an important new step forward in the fields of conflict resolution and peace studies Its essays argue that while conflict resolution is well equipped to bring about temporary settlements and brief periods of peace in volatile situations conventional conflict resolution techniques are not capable of building long term stability Instead the authors contend practitioners of conflict resolution need to focus more on reconciliation the restoration of confidence friendship and harmony between rivals than on mere conflict resolution Whereas traditional conflict resolution has focused primarily on halting quarrels with agreements between leaders on each side of a conflict reconciliation techniques shift the focus in two ways First they take more of a grassroots approach building agreement among the members of rival communities not only between leaders Second reconciliation takes a long term view of dispute resolution While the authors acknowledge that the role of traditional conflict resolution is important in stopping violence and tension they argue that in order to achieve stable peace negotiators and practitioners of conflict resolution must focus much more on what is to be done after an agreement among leaders is reached
