Confronting Images:

Confronting Images: Questioning the Ends of a Certain History of Art, Confronting Images Georges Didi-Huberman, 2005 According to Didi Huberman visual representation has an underside in which intelligible forms lose clarity and defy rational understanding Art historians he contends fail to engage this underside and he suggests that art historians look to Freud's concept of the dreamwork a mobile process that often involves substitution and contradiction

Didi-Huberman and the image Chari Larsson, 2020-09-29 Philosopher and art historian Georges Didi Huberman is one of the most innovative and influential critical thinkers writing today This book is the first English language study of his writing on images An image is a form of representation but what are the philosophical frameworks supporting it The book considers how Didi Huberman takes up this question repeatedly over the course of his career Placing his project in relation to major historical and intellectual contexts it shows not only how he modifies dominant disciplinary traditions but also how the study of images is central to a new way of thinking about poststructuralist inspired art history Deconstruction and the Work of Art Martta Heikkilä, 2021-07-29 The contemporary idea of the work of art is paradoxically both widely used and often unexamined Therefore we must re evaluate the concept before we can understand what the deconstruction of aesthetics means for thinkers like Jacques Derrida Jean Luc Nancy and Philippe Lacoue Labarthe By examining their analyses of works of visual art and contextualizing their thinking on the matter Martta Heikkil asserts that the implications of the work of art art and the aesthetic apply not only to philosophical questions but also to a broader area Instead of the totality represented by the historical concept of Art poststructuralist thinkers introduce the idea of the radical multiplicity of art and its works From this notion arises the fundamental issue in Derrida and the poststructuralist tradition how can we speak philosophically of art which always exists as singular instances as works In Deconstruction and the Work of Art Visual Arts and Their Critique in Contemporary French Thought Heikkil shows that the deconstructionist notions of art are still influential in the discourses of contemporary art in which artworks proliferate and the concept of work is open ended and expanding This book offers an introduction to the deconstructionist theory of art and brings new perspectives to the complex undecidable relation between philosophy and art A Theory of the Tache in Nineteenth-Century Painting Stein Sjøvold, 2017-07-05 Without question the tache blot patch stain is a central and recurring motif in nineteenth century modernist painting Manet's and the Impressionists rejection of academic finish produced a surface where the strokes of paint were presented directly as patches or blots then indirectly as legible signs C. J. van Gogh and Signac painted exclusively with patches or dots Through a series of close readings this book looks at the tache as one of the most important features in nineteenth century modernism The tache is a potential meeting point between text and image and a pure trace of the artist's body Even though each manifestation of tacheism generates its own specific cultural effects this book represents the first time a scholar has looked at tacheism as a hidden continuum within modern art With a methodological framework drawn from the semiotics of text and image the author introduces a much needed fine tuning to the classic terms index symbol and icon The concept of the tache as a crossing of sign types enables finer distinctions and observations than have been available thus far within the Peircean tradition The sign crossing theory opens onto the whole terrain of interaction between visual art art criticism literature philosophy and psychology Jadwiga Maziarska: Assembly Barbara Piwowarska, Rhea Anastas, 2025-10-29 This monograph is a comprehensive tribute to the Polish artist Jadwiga Maziarska 1913 2003 featuring essays by renowned art historians and curators and a selection of archival materials from 1940s 1990s Maziarska was one of the most important voices of the avant garde in Poland alongside recently recognized Erna Rosenstein her closest friend and interlocutor The title assembly speaks to Maziarska as engineer and bricoleur of source materials and methods producing an abstraction which is uncategorizable within the postwar Krakow Group Grupa Krakowska II and beyond Her artistic processes were rooted in the physicality of assembling as a response to concepts of reproduction and modernity Active from the 1940s through to the 1990s Maziarska was informed by science phenomenology mass photography printed reproductions and newspapers clippings out of which she developed autonomous structures Jadwiga Maziarska 1913 2003 studied and lived in Krak w She was a member of the second Krak w Group Grupa Krakowska II co established by Tadeusz Kantor She was known as an outsider focused on her daring and progressive experimentation with various media Images Sunil Manghani, 2013 Images Critical and Primary Sources is a major multi volume work of reference that brings together seminal writings on the image Taking an interdisciplinary approach the essays range across the domains of philosophy history art aesthetics literature science anthropology critical theory and cultural studies The essays reveal a wide set of perspectives problematics and approaches helping to frame a rich encompassing view of what we can broadly term image studies The four volumes are arranged thematically each separately introduced and with the essays structured into specific sections for easy reference Volume 1 Understanding Images establishes conceptual historical ideological and philosophical framings for understanding and defining the image followed in Volume 2 The Pictorial Turn with a focus on the most enduring and constitutive question of the image its relationship to with and against text and textuality Volume 3 Image Theory offers representative materials covering key theoretical approaches for analyzing interpreting and critiquing the image Finally Volume 4 Image Cultures examines a wide range of social and cultural contexts of the image which covers aspects of visual evidence image and memory visual methodologies scientific imaging and the practical engagement of image makers Images Critical and Primary Sources offers a major scholarly resource for any researchers involved in the study of the image and visual culture Blumenfeld, My One Hundred Best Photos Erwin Blumenfeld, Hendel Teicher, 1981 Journal of the American Geographical Society of New York American Geographical Society of New York, 1905 Albany Medical Annals , 1905 Rome: Pagan and Papal Mourant Brock, 1883 Alienist and Neurologist Charles Hamilton Hughes, 1887 Incorporation and Bylaws Society of Motion Picture and Television Engineers, 1928 Proceedings of the Aristotelian

Dawe,Edward A. Dornan,1987 Little Dorrit's Shadows Brian Rosenberg,1996 In Little Dorrit's Shadows Brian Rosenberg explores the specific relations between Dickens's ambivalent or self contradictory imagination and his creation of character arguing that contradiction and uncertainty do not merely color Dickens's characterization but account in large part for its distinctiveness and success Characters that seem initially to be thoroughly knowable prove in the end to be as present and absent definite and indefinite as shadows Rosenberg is fully familiar with Dickensian criticism and with commentary on the subject of characterization in general He concentrates on Dickens's eleventh novel Little Dorrit in which doubts and conflicts combine to shape the fictional structure on virtually every level And because Little Dorrit is founded on contradiction the contradictory elements in the characterization are granted free rein Working outward from close analyses of characterization in Little Dorrit to more general considerations of Dickens's other novels Rosenberg does justice both to the achievement of Little Dorrit and to the ways it resembles and differs from Dickens's fourteen other substantial texts Bulletin of the American Geographical Society of New York American Geographical Society of New York,1905
