Meditations of a Buddhist Skeptic B. Alan Wallace, 2011-12-06 A scholar of both spirituality and science proposes a radical approach to studying the mind with the goal of restoring human nature and transcending it Renowned Buddhist philosopher B Alan Wallace reasserts the power of shamatha and vipashyana traditional Buddhist meditations to clarify the mind s role in the natural world Raising profound questions about human nature free will and experience versus dogma Wallace challenges the claim that consciousness is nothing more than an emergent property of the brain with little relation to universal events Rather he maintains that the observer is essential to measuring quantum systems and that mental phenomena however conceived influence brain function and behavior Wallace embarks on a two part mission to restore human nature and to transcend it He begins by explaining the value of skepticism in Buddhism and science and the difficulty of merging their experiential methods of inquiry Yet Wallace also proves that Buddhist views on human nature and the possibility of free will liberate us from the metaphysical constraints of scientific materialism He then explores the radical empiricism inspired by William James and applies it to Indian Buddhist philosophy s four schools and the Great Perfection school of Tibetan Buddhism Since Buddhism begins with the assertion that ignorance lies at the root of all suffering and that the path to freedom is reached through knowledge Buddhist practice can be viewed as a progression from agnosticism not knowing to gnosticism knowing acquired through the maintenance of exceptional mental health mindfulness and introspection Wallace discusses these topics in detail identifying similarities and differences between scientific and Buddhist understanding and he concludes with an explanation of shamatha and vipashyana and their potential for realizing the full nature origins and potential of consciousness His range and depth of knowledge is astounding and his linking of this knowledge to the practices and views of science is unique Arthur Zajonc author of Catching the Light

Buddha in 60 Minutes Walther Ziegler, 2021-11-22 The Buddha is renowned as the founder of one of the five world religions This is all the more astonishing because he never claimed to be a prophet Unlike Mohammed Moses or Jesus he promises human beings no afterlife in Paradise Nor does he have any stories of God or God s grace He simply shows us how we can free ourselves by our own efforts from fear and attain to the experience of Nirvana His concern is Man s self salvation He formulates his key idea in the doctrine of the Four Noble Truths To live always means also to suffer runs the first Noble Truth because says the Buddha Ageing is suffering sickness is suffering death is suffering to be parted from loved ones is suffering The second truth then explains the causes of this suffering These are above all our own wishes and needs for pleasure youth attractiveness health eternal life and happiness If we succeeded in freeing ourselves from these things then the Buddha's third Noble Truth runs the suffering would end. The fourth Noble Truth finally describes the famous Eightfold Path that we need to follow in order to achieve liberation, awakening and serenity vis vis our own needs. The book Buddha in 60 Minutes explains this fascinating doctrine in an easy to follow way especially the key idea nirvana. The Buddha indeed arrived at his Four Noble Truths and the nirvana experience only through meditation. But his doctrine can be grasped simply through reason. Are the Four Truths correct? Is the Eightfold Path one we can actually travel? Can the nirvana experience actually help us to achieve a redeeming serenity? Here the Buddha's key ideas are explained using over a hundred of his most important quotations. The book appears as part of the popular series Great Thinkers in 60 Minutes which has now been translated worldwide into six languages.

The Numerical Discourses of the Buddha, 2012-10-16. The present work offers a complete translation of the Aguttara Nikaya, the fourth major collection in the Sutta Pi aka or Basket of Discourses belonging to the Pali Canon. Linked Discourses Bhikkhu Sujato, SuttaCentral, SuttaCentral has published an entirely new translation of the four Pali nikayas by Bhikkhu Sujato which is the first complete and consistent English translation of these core texts. This is an ebook version of Bhikkhu Sujato's translation of the Sa yutta Nikaya which can also be read at SuttaCentral website. The Linked or Connected Discourses Sa yutta Nikaya abbreviated SN is a collection of over a thousand short discourses in the Pali canon. The word linked refers to the fact that the texts are collected and organized by topic. In most cases the organizing principle is a particular theme of Dhamma for example the five aggregates, dependent origination, the noble eightfold path, mindfulness meditation or the four noble truths. This collection contains the most extensive range of texts on these core themes. In other cases chapters are organized according to the person or kind of person who speaks. This collection has a full parallel in the Sa yukt gama SA of the Sarvastivada school in Chinese translation. In addition there are two partial collections in Chinese SA 2 and SA 3 as well as a number of miscellaneous or fragmentary texts in Chinese, Sanskrit and Tibetan. Much of the organizational structure of SN is shared with SA suggesting that this structure preceded the split between these two collections. This translation of Sa yutta Nikaya was updated on March 8th 2023.
