Calculating God:

Calculating God Robert J. Sawyer, 2009-03-03 The provocative near future SF thriller from the Hugo and Nebula Award winning author

Fiction and the Sixth Mass Extinction Jonathan Elmore, 2020-04-01 Fiction and the Sixth Mass Extinction is one of the first works to focus specifically on fiction's engagements with human driven extinction Drawing together a diverse group of scholars and approaches this volume pairs established voices in the field with emerging scholars and traditionally recognized climate fiction cli fi with texts and media typically not associated with Anthropocene fictions The result is a volume that both engages with and furthers existing work on Anthropocene fiction as well as laying groundwork for the budding subfield of extinction fiction This volume takes up the collective insistence on the centrality of story to extinction studies In various and disparate ways each chapter engages with the stories we tell about extinction about the extinction of animal and plant life and about the extinction of human life itself Answering the call to action of extinction studies these chapters explore what kinds of humanity caused this event and what kinds may live through it what cultural assumptions and values led to this event and which ones could lead out of it what relationships between human life and this planet allowed the sixth mass extinction and what alternative relationships could be possible

The Everyday Fantastic Michael Berman, 2009-03-26 The Everyday Fantastic is an anthology born in love The love is for science fiction in all its myriad forms novels television movies music art etc Many writers from a plurality of disciplines professions and walks of life share this disposition This attitude cuts across national boundaries and has even outlasted the vagaries of popular culture fads This collection of essays draws upon these feelings in terms of the different ways science fiction is engaged in different disciplines viewing the genre beyond mere entertainment The papers collected here engage the fundamental questions explored in science fiction Many of the essays were originally presented at an interdisciplinary conference in October 2005 at Brock University highlighted by Robert J Sawyer's engaging keynote address Additional chapters were in part inspired by these presentations These essays represent a wide array of voices from the humanities social sciences and sciences and address a comparable range of topics and the media that use the science fiction genre

Religion and Science Fiction James H. Thrall, 2024-05-17 Religion and Science Fiction An Introduction guides students into deeper understanding of how religion and science fiction engage often overlapping questions This textbook introduces key ideas of religious studies through critical consideration of print and visual media that fall within the general category of science fiction The goal throughout is to help students move beyond simply identifying points of interrelation between religious studies and forms of what is often called more broadly speculative fiction to considering how the studied texts open new ways of thinking about human and nonhuman experience taken to be religious With discussion questions lists of key terms extensive additional resources and suggestions for projects and essay questions this book is a foundational text for students and instructors of religion and science fiction
