Conflict Resolution Education:

The Handbook of Conflict Resolution Education Richard J. Bodine, Donna K. Crawford, 1998 Based on the principles of cooperation and problem solving conflict resolution helps students solve problems themselves by identifying underlying needs and finding solutions that meet everyone's interests to the fullest extent possible With an easy to use workbook format

Conflict Resolution Education Donna K. Crawford, Richard J. Bodine, 1996 Developed for educators juvenile justice practitioners and others in youth serving organizations to heighten awareness of conflict resolution education and its potential to help settle disputes peacefully in a variety of settings The guide provides background information on conflict resolution education an overview of four widely used promising and effective approaches and guidance on how to initiate and implement conflict resolution education programs in various settings Includes curriculum resources reading list glossary and assessment forms Charts and tables

Kids Working It Out Tricia S. Jones, Randy Compton, 2002-12-03 Kids who understand how to manage conflict successfully can transform their schools into safer and kinder places to learn Kids Working It Out offers educators and parents a guide to the most current and effective school based conflict resolution programs and shows how these programs can make a positive difference in our schools Throughout the book students and teachers share their stories of what it's really like in today's schools and reveal how Conflict Resolution Education has shaped their experiences Kids Working It Out covers a wide range of topics curriculum integration peer mediation restorative justice and others and shows what it takes to implement an effective program in any school and any community

Timothy G. Kennedy, 2010 Research focusing on conflict resolution education CRE programs has established causal links between academic achievement and students who have received conflict resolution training in school Conflict resolution education programs help students develop toolkits of conflict resolution skills such as communication active listening and problem solving skills in order to develop integrative approaches to conflict resolution based on cooperative negotiation and mediation procedures as well as develop more positive attitudes towards conflict Not only will implementation of such programs lead to higher academic achievement but will help students deal with conflict both in and out of school in a more positive and constructive manner The purpose of this research study is to understand how three specific conflict resolution education programs came into existence how they were designed and implemented and how they have been evaluated and sustained With respect to the overall field of conflict resolution education the goal will be to shed light on how and why conflict resolution education came to be an important component of these three educational settings so as to provide insight into how the practice of conflict resolution education can be adapted to fit the needs of other educational institutions Ultimately the goal will be to provide justification for the expansion of conflict resolution education throughout the education sector both domestically and globally and to establish best practices in the design and implementation of new programs Analysis of the three programs will be based on the following central themes Understanding the theory behind the conception of the program Seeking to understand the development and implementation of the programs Learning how the programs have been evaluated and sustained Assessing how effective the programs have been in terms of the impact they might have made on the overall school climate and the extent to which correlations can be drawn between the operation of the programs and dependent variables such as academic achievement communication skills discipline referrals suspension rates school violence and attendance drop out rates

Students Resolving Conflict Richard Cohen,2005 Educational resource for teachers parents and kids Conflict

Resolution Education Jacqueline Ford,2003 Research has shown that conflict resolution education has an important impact on students of all grade levels This project focused on integrating conflict resolution education into standards based curriculum in an intermediate grade classroom The research methodology combined written survey results and formal observations of students during integrated lesson plans and classroom meetings The survey was administered to twenty six third and fourth grade students at the beginning of the project and again at the end of a six week integrated conflict resolution curricular unit The results supported existing research that promotes the inclusion of conflict resolution education in elementary school settings The final product is a succinct and useful resource guide for educators Creating the Peaceable School Richard J. Bodine,Donna K. Crawford,Fred Schrupf,1994 Discusses the creation of peacable schools so that learning is more productive and students learn the important life skills on how to effectively deal with conflict

Reducing School Violence Through Conflict Resolution David Johnson,Roger Johnson,1995-09-15 In this book David and Roger Johnson offer an approach that involves interrelated programs for preventing violence and helping students learn to resolve conflicts constructively The authors discuss how schools can create a cooperative learning environment where students learn how to negotiate and mediate peer conflicts and teachers use academic controversies to enhance learning Note This product listing is for the Adobe Acrobat PDF version of the book Conflict Resolution Education Patricia A.

Snyder,2007 Conflict Resolution in the Schools Kathryn Girard,Susan J. Koch,1996-07-18 Sponsored by the National Institute For Dispute Resolution and the National Association for Mediation in Education An invaluable staff and program development tool The research references discussion topics training modules and applications provide educators with a strong foundation for skill building and program development I highly recommAnd this training manual to educators who are planning conflict resolution programs in their schools Paul Wiley principal Crocker Elementary School Amherst

Massachusetts Based on material developed by the National Institute for Dispute Resolution NIDR and the former National Association for Mediation in Education now merged with the NIDR Youth Program this practical resource guide shows educators how to diagnose conflicts handle difficult confrontations and implement appropriate mediation and problem solving strategies

Conflict Resolution Communication Melinda Lincoln, 2002 Violence in schools random shootings acts of intimidation and senseless hate crimes are behaviors with serious and sometimes deadly consequences By successfully blending the processes of communication and mediation practices one can productively lessen routine strife and learn new patterns of behavior to solve differences without violence Conflict Resolution Communication Patterns Promoting Peaceful Schools provides effective alternatives and successful options to help students teachers parents educators and professionals learn to deal with conflicts difference and diversity in schools peacefully

Creating the Peaceable School Richard J. Bodine, Donna K. Crawford, Fred Schrupf, 1994 For use with upper elementary and middle school students Imagine a school or classroom where learners manage and resolve their own conflicts where students and teachers cooperate where diversity is celebrated where feelings are expressed in ways that are neither aggressive nor destructive where responsibility is the norm Creating the Peaceable School presents a workable plan for achieving this vision Through the conflict resolution strategies of mediation negotiation and group problem solving students learn to recognize manage and resolve conflicts in peaceful noncoercive ways The Student Manual is a workbook that summarizes important concepts and contains a variety of forms and worksheets designed to reinforce learning
