When multiple forces act on an object, they can combine to cause an object to move in a different direction, speed up, slow down, or stop. The forces that act on an object determine the acceleration of the object. The acceleration of an object is the change in its velocity over time. The acceleration of an object is directly proportional to the net force acting on it and inversely proportional to its mass. Newton's second law states that the acceleration of an object is directly proportional to the net force acting on it and inversely proportional to its mass. This means that if the net force acting on an object is doubled, the acceleration of the object will also double. If the mass of an object is doubled, the acceleration of the object will be halved. Newton's first law states that an object at rest will stay at rest and an object in motion will stay in motion with the same velocity unless acted upon by a net external force. This means that if the net force acting on an object is zero, the object's velocity will not change. If the net force acting on an object is not zero, the object's velocity will change.  Answer the questions that follow. <ol style="list-style-type: none"> Which of the following is NOT a contact force? <ol style="list-style-type: none"> Force of friction.
