Report of the Advisory Committee on the Future of the U.S. Space Program United States. Advisory Committee on the Future of the U.S. Space Program,1990 Dark Star Matthew H. Hersch,2023-12-26 A captivating history of NASA's Space Transportation System the space shuttle chronicling the inevitable failures of a doomed design In Dark Star Matthew Hersch challenges the existing narrative of the most significant human space program of the last 50 years NASA's space shuttle He begins with the origins of the space shuttle a century long effort to develop a low cost reusable rocket powered airplane to militarize and commercialize space travel which Hersch explains was built the wrong way at the wrong time and for all the wrong reasons Describing the unique circumstances that led to the space shuttle's creation by President Richard Nixon's administration in 1972 and its subsequent flights from 1981 through 2011 Hersch illustrates how the space shuttle was doomed from the start While most historians have accepted the view that the space shuttle's fatal accidents including the 1986 Challenger explosion resulted from deficiencies in NASA's management culture that lulled engineers into a false confidence in the craft Dark Star reveals the widespread understanding that the shuttle was predestined for failure as a technology demonstrator The vehicle was intended only to give the United States the appearance of a viable human spaceflight program until funds became available to eliminate its obvious flaws Hersch's work seeks to answer the perilous questions of technological choice that confront every generation and it is a critical read for anyone interested in how we can create a better world through the things we build America's Space Sentinels Jeffrey Richelson,1999 During much of the Cold War America's first line of defense was in outer space a network of secret satellites that could provide instant warning of an enemy missile launch The presence of these infrared sensors orbiting 22 000 miles above the earth discouraged a Soviet first strike and stabilized international relations between the superpowers and they now play a crucial role in monitoring the missile programs of China India and other emerging nuclear powers Jeffrey Richelson has written the first comprehensive history of this vital program tracing its evolution from the late 1950s to the present He puts Defense Support Program operations in the context of world events from Russian missile programs to the Gulf War and explains how DSP's infrared sensors are used to detect meteorites monitor forest fires and even gather industrial intelligence by seeing the lights of steel mills National Geographic Family Reference Atlas of the World National Geographic Society (U.S.),2010 A comprehensive world atlas covering all aspects of the Earth with over 1000 maps and illustrations U.S.
