Between Worlds Interpreters Guides And Survivors:

Between Worlds Frances E. Karttunen, 1994 Spanning the globe and the centuries Frances Karttunen tells the stories of sixteen men and women who served as interpreters and guides to conquerors missionaries explorers soldiers and anthropologists These interpreters acted as uncomfortable bridges between two worlds their own marginality the fact that they belonged to neither world suggests the complexity and tension between cultures meeting for the first time Some of the guides were literally dragged into their roles others volunteered The most famous ones were especially skilled at living in two worlds and surviving to recount their experiences Among outsiders the interpreters found protection sustenance recognition intellectual companionship and employment yet most of the interpreters ultimately suffered tragic fates Between Worlds addresses the broadest issues of cross cultural encounters imperialism and capitalism and gives them a human face

Muslim Interpreters in Colonial Senegal, 1850-1920 Tamba M'bayo, 2016-07-01 This book investigates the lives and careers of Muslim African interpreters employed by the French colonial administration in Saint Louis Senegal from the 1850s to the early 1920s It focuses on the lower and middle Senegal River valley in northern Senegal where the French concentrated most of their activities in West Africa during the nineteenth century The Muslim interpreters performed multiple roles as mediators military and expeditionary guides emissaries diplomatic hosts and treaty negotiators As cultural and political powerbrokers that straddled the colonial divide they were indispensable for French officials in their relations with African rulers and the local population As such a central concern of this book is the paradoxical and often contradictory roles the interpreters played in mediating between the French and Africans This book argues that the Muslim interpreters exemplified a paradox while serving the French administration they pursued their own interests and defended those of their local communities In doing so the interpreters strove to maintain some degree of autonomy Moreover this book contends that the interpreters occupied a vantage position as mediators to influence the construction of colonial discourse and knowledge because they channeled the flow of information between the French and the African population Thus Muslim interpreters had the capacity to shape power relations between the colonizers and the colonized in Senegal ROUTLEDGE ENCYCLOPEDIA

Dancing on the Sun Stone Marjorie Becker, 2024-05-01 Dancing on the Sun Stone is a uniquely transdisciplinary work that fuses modern Latin American history and literature to explore women's lives and gendered politics in Mexico. In this important work, scholar Marjorie Becker focuses on the complex Mexican women of rural Michoacán who performed an illicit revolutionary dance and places it in dialogue with Nobel Prize winner Octavio Paz's signature poem Sun Stone, allowing a new gendered history to emerge. Through this dialogue, the women reveal intimate and intellectual complexities of Mexican women's gendered voices, their histories, and their intimate and public lives. The work further demonstrates the ways these women, in dialogue with Paz, transformed history itself. Becker's multigenre work reconstructs Mexican history through the temporal experiences of crucial Michoacán females' experiences that culminate in their complex revolutionary dance, which itself emerges as a transformative revolutionary language.

Between Indian and White Worlds Margaret Connell Szasz, 2001 Cultural boundaries exist wherever cultures encounter one another. During centuries of contact between native peoples and others in America, countless intermediaries, artists, students, traders, interpreters, political figures, authors, even performers, have bridged the divide between Indian and White Worlds. The Cultural Broker provides a new understanding of the role of these mediation in North America from 1690 to the present. Cultural brokers have shared certain qualities, in particular, a thorough understanding of two or more cultures. Living on the edge of change and conflict, they have responded to evolving and unstable circumstances or alliances with a flexibility born of their determination to bring understanding to disparate peoples. No composite portrait can encompass the complexity of the brokerage experience. To convey the many roles of these intermediaries, editor Margaret Connell Szasz has brought together fourteen distinct portraits, crafted by prominent scholars of Indian-white relations of brokers across the continent and throughout three centuries of American history: in the colonial world, during the expansion of the republic in the Wild West, and in the twentieth century. This fascinating and inspiring collection speaks eloquently of life on the cultural frontier. Key figures in our pluralistic heritage, cultural brokers are no less important today as society continues to struggle with diversity.

Encountering the World Edward S. Reed, 1996-08-29 Encountering the World reorients modern psychology by finding a viable middle ground between the study of nerve cells and cultural analysis. The emerging field of ecological psychology focuses on the human niche and our uniquely evolved modes of action and interaction. Rejecting both mechanistic cognitive science and reductionistic neuroscience, the author offers a new psychology that combines ecological and experimental methods to help us better understand the ways in which people and animals make their way through the world. The book provides a comprehensive treatment of ecological psychology and a unique synthesis of the work of Darwin, neural Darwinism, and modern ecologists with James Gibson's approach to perception. The author presents detailed discussions on communication, sociality, cognition, and language, topics often overlooked by ecological psychologists. Other issues covered include ecological approaches to animal behavior, neural mechanisms.
