Williams, 2006-04-10 On a last run Tor teaches his nephew Tristal the Shumai axeman ways but Tristal must survive deadly encounters endure a seductive captivity and suffer enslavement before he masters the axeman s skill Reprint Triumph Philip Wylie, 2007-12-01 In the world s upper hemisphere only one small group has survived World War III fourteen people sheltered deep within a limestone mountain in Connecticut and with enough supplies and equipment to maintain their subsistence for upwards of two years The group includes a forward thinking millionaire and his family a levelheaded Jewish scientist a playboy an aging African American servant and his daughter a gigolo and the glamorous woman who has been his mistress a beautiful Chinese girl a young meter reader two children and a Japanese engineer Fully aware of the outcome of the war that had raged briefly above them the survivors seethe with hatred fall into depression over their losses rise to moments of superhuman bravery and lapse into behavior that reflects their human weaknesses Philip Wylie mercilessly predicts the inevitable end of a world that continues to function as selfishly and as barbarously as our own The Bible and Zionism Nur Masalha, 2007-08 This text investigates the Biblical justification for Zionism charts the historical rise of Zionism since its 19th century roots Providing a contribution to the argument for a single democratic secular Israeli state it shows how the biblical language of chosen people promised land is used to justify ethnic division violence The Dome in the Forest Paul O. Williams, 2005-01-01 More than one thousand years in the future the conservative borders of Pelbar society continue to crumble as the people of Pelbar conduct trade form friendships and intermarry with members of the tribes now settled peacefully around the citadel of Northwall Not all agree with the changes however and long instead for the old times of conflict and rigid order Igniting the tension is the discovery of a mysterious subterranean shelter where the descendants of survivors of the long ago nuclear war live A young woman from the shelter and the shocking revelations she brings precipitate a crisis that will profoundly affect the futures of plainsmen and citadelfolk alike The Dome in the Forest is the third volume and one of the most exciting tales in the Pelbar Cycle a classic series of seven postapocalyptic novels about the people of Pelbar

Race, Ethnicity and Nuclear War Paul Williams, 2011-10-18 An Open Access edition of this book is available on the Liverpool University Press website and the OAPEN library Ranging across novels and poetry critical theory and film comics and speeches Race Ethnicity and Nuclear War Representations of Nuclear Weapons and Post Apocalyptic Worlds explores how writers thinkers and filmmakers have answered the following question are nuclear weapons white Many texts respond in the affirmative and arraign nuclear weapons for defending a racial order that privileges whiteness They are seen as a reminder that the power enjoyed by the white western world imperils the whole of the Earth Furthermore the struggle to survive during and after a speculated nuclear attack is often cast as a contest between races and ethnic groups Race Ethnicity and Nuclear War listens to voices from around the Anglophone world and the debates followed do not only take place on the soil of the nuclear powers Filmmakers and writers from the Caribbean Australia and India take up positions shaped by their specific place in the decolonizing world and their particular experience of nuclear weapons The texts considered in Race Ethnicity and Nuclear War encompass the many guises of representations of nuclear weapons the Manhattan Project that developed the first atomic weapons the destruction of Hiroshima and Nagasaki nuclear tests taking place around the world and the anxiety surrounding the superpowers devastating arsenals Of particular interest to SF scholars are the extensive analyses of films novels and short stories depicting nuclear war and its aftermath New thoughts are offered on the major texts that SF scholars often return to such as Philip Wylie's Tomorrow and Pat Frank's Alas Babylon and a host of little known and under researched texts are scrutinized too

The Ends of the Circle Paul O. Williams, 2005-01-01 One thousand years after the time of fire a gentle craftsman and flute player forsakes both his true love and birthright to seek the fabled Shining Sea Stel born of proud but rigid Pelbar culture embarks on an epic quest across an America dramatically changed by a long ago nuclear war Following him is his beloved wife Ahroe equally determined to find Stel avoid disgrace and share her own precious secret The Ends of the Circle is the second novel in the highly praised Pelbar Cycle a classic series of postapocalyptic novels about the people of the Pelbar Imaginative and reflective this rousing tale introduces Stel engineer and poet adventurer and musician one of the most memorable characters in modern postapocalyptic fiction
