Future Survey Annual 1987 Michael Marien,1988-01-01 Sustaining Primary Health Care Anne

LaFond,2013-11-05 Analyzing the dimensions of the struggle for effective health care in the developing countries this study demonstrates how current governmental and donor agency policies in such countries as Uganda Ghana Nepal Pakistan and Vietnam have failed to develop efficient systems The author argues against the current emphasis on decentralization and privatization and outlines a framework for a long term approach that should bring benefits and improvements in health care

Educating Managers for Business and Government Samuel Paul,John C. Ickis,Jacob Levitsky,1989-01-01 Managers in both the private and public sectors are increasingly recognized as critical in the use of scarce resources for national development There is no unanimity of opinion however regarding the models or approaches to management education that are most appropriate in different environmental settings Traditionally management education has been dominated by the need to train executives for large scale enterprises But the 1980s has seen a global trend toward the deconcentration of business The future development of the indigenous business sector in the developing world depends heavily on the emergence of small and medium scale entrepreneurs The roles of public administrators with respect to regulatory and developmental activities enterprise are also changing This trend is evident not only in market oriented countries but also in socialist countries and many developing countries This volume encompasses management education for each of these groups the managers and future managers of large scale enterprises entrepreneurs and small business people and public administrators Its purpose is to review worldwide trends and developments in management education for information about curriculum design research and teaching methodology and institutional policies and administration Experience is drawn from recognized universities educational organizations civil service institutes and corporations in several major countries and regions of the world A number of tables and figure appear in this volume along with references A seminar participants list also is included Author DB The International Yearbook of Environmental and Resource Economics 2000/2001 Tom Tietenberg,Henk Folmer,2000-05-25 There has been an explosion in the literature and research on environmental and resource economics in recent years This major annual publication provides a cutting edge survey of current research by the leading experts in the field Future Survey Annual ,1986 Institutional Development of NGOs ,1989 Journal of Rural Development ,1988 Experiential Social Learning and Management for Social Transformation Jeffrey Alan Dickinson,1988 Vikalpa ,1992 Resources for Social and Economic Development Richard J.
