Beyond The Reproductive Body:

Beyond the Reproductive Body Marjorie Levine-Clark, 2004 Investigates the politics of women's health and work in early Victorian England where government officials and reformers surveying the laboring population became convinced that the female body would be ruined by employment

Beyond Pro-life and Pro-choice Fran Amery, 2020-01-22 Examining the changing pluralities of contemporary abortion debate in Britain this innovative and important book shows why it is necessary to move beyond an understanding of abortion politics as characterised in binary terms by pro choice versus pro life Amery traces the evolution of political and parliamentary discourses from the passage of the Abortion Act in the 1960s to the present day and argues that the current provision of abortion in Britain rests on assumptions about medical authority over women's reproductive decision making which are unsustainable She explores new arguments around sex selective abortion disability rights pre abortion counselling and the push for decriminalization and radically reconceptualizes the debate to account for these new battlegrounds in abortion politics

The Reproductive Body Ilyssa A. Silfen, 2015 Beyond Kawaii Brigitte Steger, Angelika Koch, Christopher Tso, 2020-01-01 Kawaii The love of all things cute has become the dominant image of Japanese girls and women Real Japanese women are however more complex Some celebrate their uterus others experiment with fashion and cross dressing or embrace their chubbiness many struggle with motherhood And some may even return as vengeful ghosts This third collection of studies by young scholars from the University of Cambridge looks beyond the kawaii image and explores the diversity and complexity of being a Japanese woman in the new millennium

Choice, 2005 The Shadowed Home, and the Light Beyond Edward Henry Bickersteth, 1875 Pamphlets on Parasitology, 1922 Beyond the Museum Ian Cole, Nick Stanley, 1999 Published to mark the touring exhibition Gustav Metzger first shown at the Museum of Modern Art Oxford 25 October 1998 10 January 1999

Psychoanalysis and Beyond Psychoanalysis Leonard Landes, 1926 New Books on Women and Feminism, 2003 Beyond the Pleasure Principle Sigmund Freud, 1922 In the psycho analytical theory of the mind we take it for granted that the course of mental processes is automatically regulated by the pleasure principle that is to say we believe that any given process originates in an unpleasant state of tension and thereupon determines for itself such a path that its ultimate issue coincides with a relaxation of this tension i e with avoidance of pain or with production of pleasure We know that the pleasure principle is adjusted to a primary mode of operation on the part of the psychic apparatus and that for the preservation of the organism amid the difficulties of the external world it is ab initio useless and indeed extremely dangerous Under the influence of the instinct of the ego for self preservation it is replaced by the reality principle which without giving up the intention of ultimately attaining pleasure yet demands and enforces the postponement of satisfaction the renunciation of manifold possibilities of it and the temporary endurance of pain on the long and circuitous road to pleasure The replacement of the pleasure principle by the reality principle can account only for a small part and that not the most intense of painful experiences Another and no less regular source of pain proceeds from the conflicts and dissociations in the psychic apparatus during the development of the ego towards a more highly coordinated organisation. The two sources of pain here indicated still do not nearly cover the majority of our painful experiences but as to the rest one may say with a fair show of reason that their presence does not impugn the supremacy of the pleasure principle. Most of the pain we experience is of a perceptual order: perception either of the urge of unsatisfied instincts or of something in the external world which may be painful in itself or may arouse painful anticipations in the psychic apparatus and is recognised by it as danger. The reaction to these claims of impulse and these threats of danger, a reaction in which the real activity of the psychic apparatus is manifested, may be guided correctly by the pleasure principle or by the reality principle which modifies this. It seems thus unnecessary to recognise a still more far-reaching limitation of the pleasure principle and nevertheless it is precisely the investigation of the psychic reaction to external danger that may supply new material and new questions in regard to the problem here treated.

Material and Visual Cultures Beyond Male Bonding, 1870-1914 John Potvin, 2008 Material and Visual Cultures Beyond Male Bonding 1870 1914 presents the first cross disciplinary analysis of the visual and material representations and spaces of male same sex culture in turn of the century Britain which positions intimacy as its central object Through both historical and theoretical lenses this groundbreaking study considers photographs interior design decorative art architecture and illustrations from the popular press to reveal the interwoven narratives of intimacy aesthetics and identity The author sustains close readings to expose the challenges the representations of men together posed not only for the men of the time but also for the contemporary viewer and scholar

Beyond Borders Josep Simon, Carolyn Birdsall, Néstor Herrán, Anthony Enns, 2008 How does scientific knowledge circulate Does scientific communication shape the making of science Is the making of science a national endeavour or does it have an international or transnational dimension Are teaching and research equally relevant in this endeavour How can history of science react to the challenges posed by the changing practices of science in historical context Beyond Borders is a book generated at the heart of these fundamental questions In the last decades the history of science has attained a high degree of disciplinary maturity and sophistication However perception of disciplinary crisis is apparent behind calls for the search of new oebig pictures and their implementation in teaching and communicating the history of science to wider audiences Temporal and narrative fragmentation are seen as major drawbacks hindering the development of the discipline In addition national linguistic and methodological division is increasingly afflicting its practice Like other areas in the humanities and in contrast to the sciences the history of science has nowadays a pronounced local character which clearly constrains its intellectual output Challenging this state of affairs is a major aim of this book which argues for a resolute call for intellectual and methodological pluralism and internationalism Through a broad diversity of subjects periods and geographies covering from studies of sixteenth century astrological texts to contextual analysis of twentieth century X ray spectroscopy this collection of papers and historiographical essays offers a fresh overview of the field and its major questions Beyond Borders revisits five major topics in history of science namely the early modern map of knowledge pedagogy and science science popularization science and the nation and the geography of scientific centres and peripheries Engaging with a broad diversity of historiographical and methodological approaches in an international perspective Beyond Borders is a rich and plural manifesto contributing to the reflective appraisal of history of science as a discipline

Beyond Modernism Kim Levin, 1988 This lively and perceptive commentary on the art and issues of the last two decades by a well known art critic examines the end of modernism from the perspective of the 70s and 80s and such modernist ancestors as Duchamp Picasso and de Chirico as well as reactions to movements of the 60s Among the twenty nine essays are Fifties Fallout the Spiral Jetty southern California art and artists video art the new German painting Lichtenstein Rosenquist and Warhol in the 80s the Times Square show and such artists as Samaras Hesse Morley Beuys Pearlstein Schnabel Salle Taaffe Bleckner and Koons In her Introduction Kim Levin says What unites these essays and articles is an underlying historical theme the decline and fall of Modernism or its death and rebirth Written over a span of fifteen years these pieces document what seemed at the end of the 70s to be the emergence of a new era but now looks more like the waning of the old one The perspective has shifted the prefix of choice in the 70s was post in the 80s it s been neo
