Livio A. C. Dobrez

Do You Consider Yourself A Postmodern Au:

"Do You Consider Yourself a Postmodern Author?" Rudolf Freiburg, 1999 This book presents a collection of twelve interviews with eminent English contemporary writers held during a period of four years The book allows an illuminating insight into a very lively and thought provoking literary culture stirred not only by recent ideas of postmodernism but also by the manifold issues of nationality culture and gender subjected to permanent redefinitions towards the end of the twentieth century The interviews with Peter Ackroyd John Banville Julian Barnes Alain de Botton Maureen Duffy Tibor Fischer John Fowles Romesh Gunesequera Tim Parks Terry Pratchett Jane Rogers and Adam Thorpe cover topics such as the relationship between writer and public the role of the literary tradition the relevance of contemporary literary theory for the production of literature images of nationality intertextuality changes in the attitude towards language and meaning and the reception of literary texts by critical reviewers and literary critics Writing Women Across Borders and Categories Martina

Ghosh-Schellhorn, 2000 Generally held to be rigid borders and categories are nonetheless expanded when those bounded by the demarcations of hegemony challenge its strictures Significant instances of this constructive transgression can be found in the women's writing with which this collection of essays by international critics engages Whereas in travel writing by women Sarah Hobson Dervla Murphy Jan Morris transgression is seen to have settled into a familiar strategy in autobiography Ann Fanshawe Margaret Cavendish Christine Brooke Rose cultural analysis Virginia Woolf Marianna Torgovnick Donna Haraway and fiction Michelle Cliff Jeanette Winterson Ellen Galford Fiona Cooper women have succeeded in creating an innovative space for themselves Power and Society in Terry Pratchett's Discworld Justine Breton, 2025-04-24 Bringing together scholars in fields from literary studies and journalism to history political science and economics this collection explores worldbuilding and structures of power and society within Terry Pratchett's Discworld novels A Life Composed André Schüller, 2002 The modern literary critic T S Eliot wrote in 1929 must be an experimenter outside of what you might at first consider his own province there is no literary problem which does not lead us irresistibly to larger problems This book follows Eliot's principle and situates his literary and critical work in a wide context that reveals manifold links between aesthetics ethics politics and epistemology the historical context of early twentieth century idealism vitalism and pragmatism especially the intensely political Bergsonian controversy and the modern context of the philosophies of Charles Taylor Michel Foucault and Richard Rorty Knowledge it argues was verbalised in the modernist age individualised into the act of knowing an act with motives and goals and thus introduced into the realm of ethics a process central to twentieth century thought Eliot's poems especially constructed as a life composed a literary lifetime linking composition and composure ponder the virtue of precision the sins of pride and mental sloth the temptation of prejudice and the need for conviction Decidedly tentative Eliot's poems solve the problem of morally significant literature In a century of suspicion they ask the crucial question of where one should start to rely The Mathematics Educator, 2007 The Contingent Self Virginia

Brackett,2001 Both accessible and insightful this collection of personal critical essays employs a formal study of literature as framework for the consideration of universal issues including grief management death and acceptance of and benefit from traumatic change These topics offer Brackett the opportunity to reflect upon the joys and rigors of scholarship as she considers professional issues such as academic advancement through publication They stand as testimony to one professional s belief that academia should not only embrace but encourage a number of approaches to self expression on the part of its scholars Her personal commentary draws from the work and life stories of many writers including Elizabeth Cary Anne Bradstreet Charlotte Perkins Gilman Edna St Vincent Millay Rabindranath Tagore Leo Tolstoy Katherine Anne Porter and V S Naipaul Critical and philosophical commentary by notables such as Richard Rorty Michel Foucault Jane Tompkins Lois McNay Diane P Freeman Olivia Frey Frances Murphy Zauhar Janice Radway and Patricia Waugh interlace and advance Brackett s own speculations The book makes clear Brackett s belief that no reasonable explanation exists for the necessity some scholars see in withholding results of literary study from a broader audience unless it be a reluctance to write with the clarity necessary to make digestible and enjoyable the fruits of their profession
