Hearing Ourselves Think Ann M. Penrose, Barbara M. Sitko, 1993 In Hearing Ourselves Think cognitive process research moves from the laboratory to the college classroom where its rich research tradition continues and an important

new set of instructional approaches emerges Each chapter moves from research results to classroom action providing a direct and important link between research theory and practice The book develops the concept of the research based classroom in which students actively examine the processes and contexts of reading and writing and then turn their observations into principles for practice Hearing Ourselves Think contributes to a lively new tradition of socio cognitive research in writing and reading exploring the dynamics of cognitive processes as they interact with dimensions of the academic context English Quarterly ,1995 The English Quarterly ,1995 Reading in the Composition Classroom Joan Carson,Ilona Leki,1993 Assessment for Learning Within and Beyond the Classroom Siew Fun Tang,Loshinikarasi Logonnathan,2016-06-29 These conference proceedings focus on Assessment for Learning Within and Beyond the Classroom in recognition of the power of assessment for learning as a way of boosting student performance They explore the breadth depth and quality of the best models and practices strategies lessons learnt and discuss cases of successful implementation of assessment within the classroom and beyond including the virtual space They also provide fertile ground for stimulating and comparing responsive assessment approaches and practices in relatively new areas of assessment such as graduate capability assessment in view of the need for educational institutions to evidence graduate employability A Teacher's Introduction to Reader-response Theories Richard Beach,1993 This book offers teachers a convenient means of broadening their understanding of reader response theory and criticism and applying this theory to the teaching of literature in high school and college classrooms The book is designed to arouse individual teachers interest in reader response theory and encourage them to apply it to their teaching The book covers the various branches of reader response theory the key ideas of its many proponents and the advantages and disadvantages of each branch of theory as perceived by critics Individual chapters include 1 Introduction 2 Textual Theories of Response 3 Experiential Theories of Response 4 Psychological Theories of Response 5 Social Theories of Response 6 Cultural Theories of Response and 7 Applying Theory to Practice Making Decisions about Eliciting Response A glossary of key terms in reader response theory along with an extensive bibliography covering the many facets of the entire field are appended HB Reader Stance and Literary Understanding Joyce Many,Carole Cox,1992 This book presents background information on the current literary theory known as reader response and examines ways in which response and the teaching of literature has been researched and the findings of that research It effectively demonstrates the diverse manner in which theoretical principles can be examined using a number of different frameworks It investigates new theoretical perspectives on reader response theory as well as demonstrating how empirical qualitative and ethnographic research has investigated current theory Each chapter on research response to literature integrates classroom vignettes and actual student responses in order to offer the classroom teacher as well as the reading and literature research new information about the manner in which children and older students interact with the literature This volume will be particularly informative to college personnel and graduate students interested in theories and research focusing on response to literature and the teaching of literature This text is useful as both a reference for researchers and teachers and a supplemental text for graduate students Ometeca ,2002

Re-educating the Imagination Deanne Bogdan,1992 Siegener Periodicum zur internationalen empirischen Literaturwissenschaft ,1989 The English Record ,1993 Restorying Our Lives Gary M. Kenyon,William Lowell Randall,1997 A blend of practical insight and academic analysis concerning composing or storying our lives With a bibliography on the narrative approach in the human sciences and examples this work should be a useful resource for anyone curious about the dynamics of continuity and change Reshaping High School English Bruce Pirie,1997 This book takes up the question of what shape high school English studies should take in the coming years It describes an English program that blends philosophical depth with classroom practicality Drawing examples from commonly taught texts such as Macbeth To Kill a Mockingbird and Lord of the Flies the book places literary analysis within a postmodern framework It explores recent literary and educational theory including reader response theory and cultural studies The book devotes attention to the process of reading and its relationship to creative writing which is put forward as an essential rather than a supplementary part of high school English programs The end result is that the book provides insights on textuality media studies drama and the 5 paragraph essay The book also serves as a call for increased teacher involvement in curriculum reform While the book s primary purpose is to examine what does and does not make sense in high school English teaching in view of current theory it offers readers examples of effective classroom practice that takes English in the right direction NKA
