Catholicism in Italy in the Age of Pluralism Franco Garelli, 2012-07-10 Religious pluralism is increasing due to progressively more culturally interactive societies and an escalating exchange of migrants Nevertheless as this book shows the situation in Italy is characterized by several distinct features Statistically the level of religiosity is noticeably higher than in other European countries and the majority of the population declares itself Catholic Within the Catholic world however there are distinct differences in the ways and forms of believing ranging from the convinced and active faithful to the occasional believer or the development of new forms of Catholicism Catholic sentiment endures although many believers may not agree with the ethical indications of the ecclesiastical hierarchy Furthermore the Church and Catholic groups have reinforced their presence in the public sphere by participating in various campaigns to reassert Christian values on fundamental issues for civil harmony from the family to bioethics the limitations of science to the goals of economic development religious freedom to the secular State national identity to global equilibriums and more The Church therefore moves at various levels in order to keep the nation closely tied to Catholic culture a commitment which is both applauded and criticized Some non believers express appreciation for the Catholic campaigns set out to counteract the lack of values and loss of memory typical of advanced modernity However in the non believing secular world many more criticize the Catholic presence for acting as a lobby in Italian society accusing the Italian Church of excessive alignment to the diktat issued by the Vatican The particularity of the Italian case poses unique questions to those who study social phenomena Why is the Catholic Church in Italy experiencing a period of such vitality in the public sphere How can this situation be reconciled with the undisputed advance of secularization And what kind of organizational problems does the assertive dynamism of Italian Catholicis

Roman Catholic Political Philosophy James V. Schall,2006-08-01 In Roman Catholic Political Philosophy author James V Schall tries to demonstrate that Roman Catholicism and political philosophy revelation and reason are not contradictory It is his contention that political philosophy the primary focus of the book asks certain questions about human purpose and destiny that it cannot by itself answer Revelation is the natural complement to these important questions about God human being and the world Schall manages to avoid polemicism or triumphalism as he shows that revelation and political thought contribute to a fuller understanding of each other
