Documentary Makers:

Television Producers Jeremy Tunstall, 2003-09-02 Covering all the major areas of television production this in depth work highlights the widely varying influences difficulties and opportunities at work in the industry Each kind of producer across the seven areas here examined faces the same practical issues of budget talent and equipment resources and end product expectations however the self image of the producers and the creative environment in which they work can differ greatly from one programming sector to the next and whilst their careers may run parallel they are usually cut off from one another ideologically Based on interviews from over two hundred and fifty producers working across a selection of British television channels as well as producers of a number of high profile American shows this book takes in a panoramic view of production models at work today and concludes with some insightful suggestions for the future

Documenting Gendered Violence Lisa M. Cuklanz, Heather McIntosh, 2016-08-25 Documenting Gendered Violence explores the intersections of documentary and gendered violence Several contributors investigate representations through grounded textual analyses of key films and videos including Sex Crimes Unit 2011 and The Invisible War 2012 and other documentary texts including Youtube photographs and theater Other chapters use analysis and interviews to explore how gender violence issues impact production and how these documentaries become part of collaborations and awareness movements

Documentaries and China's National Image Chen Yi, 2022-08-30 Emphasizing the role of documentary in shaping a nation state s image demonstrating social development and promoting cultural exchanges this book examines the changes in China s national image in documentaries at home and abroad since 1949 Based on theoretical frameworks of media sociology political economy of communication and cultural studies the book traces the development of Chinese documentary and discusses social transformation and cultural representation embodied in documentaries related to China It is revealed how these works witness reflect and interact with social transitions in all aspects of a modernizing China as well as how documentary production struggles among and mediates between technology market ideology social forces and professionalism In terms of future prospects of documentary in an era when media convergence is burgeoning the author explores feasible paths to further promotion of cross cultural communication and China s national image by analyzing documentary aesthetics and representative cases of documentary practice The title will appeal to scholars and students interested in culture and communication documentary film media and Chinese society

Documentary Filmmakers Speak Liz Stubbs, 2002-08 This manual contains a series of candid interviews with creators of influential documentaries The filmmakers tell of the challenges and triumphs faced in making documentaries and discuss the key aspects of the documentary process and technique

Chinese Independent Cinema Chris Berry, Luke Robinson, Sabrina Qiong Yu, Lydia Wu, 2025-10-01 Independent cinema in China is not only made outside the commercial system but also without being submitted for censorship We know that for several decades it has been the crucible out of which China s most exciting new films have flowed The essays in this volume interrogate what else we think we know Did it really start with Wu Wenguang and Bumming in Beijing in 1990 or can its roots be traced back much earlier What are its aesthetics And its ethics including of gender and class Where do audiences watch these films in China and how do they circulate And since the 2017 Film Law defined uncensored films as illegal is independent Chinese cinema still alive What does it mean today And does it have a future The essays in this anthology many by exciting new scholars explore these urgent questions

The Documentary Makers David A. Goldsmith, 2003 A series of in their own words interviews with 15 directors whose work has in some way extended the boundary of the documentary They constitute a tiny proportion of those working in the field but they represent the state of the documentary across the world from the limited resources of China's only independent director with no access to his nation's television to the big budget series that attract tens of millions of American viewers Some will only work on film with all its paraphernalia of moviemaking while others insist on working alone with nothing more than a Handicam Some question even abhor the use of commentary others wouldn't dream of doing without Some work by the rules of cinema verite and some use dramatization while still labeling their work documentary Regardless of the where and the how they all seek to reproduce reality whatever that might be

Book jacket TV World, 1997 International business magazine for television Michael Moore's Fahrenheit 9/11 Robert Brent Toplin, 2006 Examines the development of Michael Moore's ideas and the evolution of his filmmaking then dissects Fahrenheit 9/11 and explores the many claims and disagreements about the movie's truthfulness This study shows that Michael Moore's film did more than shake up a nation
