Rhetoric of Subhash Chandra Bose: Creation and Criticism

Abnish Singh Chauhan

Subhash Chandra Bose (1897-1945), the dominant freedom fighter, next to Gandhi, better known as Netaji, was a magnetic and persuasive rhetor of Pre-independence Period. Frank to the extreme and fearless of criticism, he spoke like a master of language in mighty, energetic and perceptive Indian English expressions. His language was charged with political insight, social fervor and patriotism to kindle the emotions and thoughts of the Indian community, especially the freedom fighters of his times. His verbal ingenuity is admirable and carefully cultivated, which shows his command over words, freshness of ideas and richness of emotions in addressing the grave problems of Pre-independence India.

scientific truth is unattainable he would now with the work of Homer and the tragedians in View consider what are the factors which go to make a good poem a good tragedy Only the part concerning tragedy has survived and that probably only in part But what he does thus elicit from a study of Sophocles Euripides and Homer is presented as rules at least as hints for those who would be epic or tragic poets About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works
