Critter Commandos 2000 Paul Arden Lidberg, 2000-08-01      Hunters, Herders, and Hamburgers Richard W. Bulliet, 2005 Richard W Bulliet has long been a leading figure in the study of human animal relations and in his newest work Hunters Herders and Hamburgers he offers a sweeping and engaging perspective on this dynamic relationship from prehistory to the present By considering the shifting roles of donkeys camels cows and other domesticated animals in human society as well as their place in the social imagination Bulliet reveals the different ways various cultures have reinforced symbolized and rationalized their relations with animals Bulliet identifies and explores four stages in the history of the human animal relationship separation predomesticity domesticity and postdomesticity He begins with the question of when and why humans began to consider themselves distinct from other species and continues with a fresh look at how a few species became domesticated He demonstrates that during the domestic era many species fell from being admired and even worshipped to being little more than raw materials for various animal product industries Throughout the work Bulliet discusses how social and technological developments and changing philosophical religious and aesthetic viewpoints have shaped attitudes toward animals Our relationship to animals continues to evolve in the twenty first century Bulliet writes We are today living through a new watershed in human animal relations one that appears likely to affect our material social and imaginative lives as profoundly as did the original emergence of domestic species The United States Britain and a few other countries are leading a move from domesticity marked by nearly universal familiarity with domestic species to an era of postdomesticity in which dependence on animal products continues but most people have no contact with producing animals Elective vegetarianism and the animal liberation movement have combined with new attitudes toward animal science pets and the presentation of animals in popular culture to impart a distinctive moral psychological and spiritual tone to postdomestic life      The Animal's Agenda , 1999      VideoHound's Golden Movie Retriever Jim Craddock, 2004 Reviews movies that are available on DVD or tape Each entry includes title alternate title one to four bone rating year released MPAA rating brief review length format country of origin cast technical personnel awards and made for television cable video designations      The Twin Film Phenomenon Lauren Rosewarne, 2025-11-18 This book examines the recurring phenomenon in film and television where two strikingly similar productions are released in close succession Examples include Armageddon 1998 and Deep Impact 1998 A Bug's Life 1998 and Antz 1998 and more recently the 2019 Fyre Festival documentaries and the 2024 Prince Andrew docudramas Drawing from hundreds of cases this book explores why these twin productions emerge the industrial and creative forces that drive them and how they reflect broader trends in media history Situating this pattern within the fields of remake adaptation and media multiplicities studies this book provides a comprehensive analysis of this largely understudied yet pervasive phenomenon Each chapter examines different motivations behind the creation of twin films and TV shows from economic imperatives and competitive market dynamics to shared cultural anxieties and trends in audience demand This book presents a meticulous catalogue of examples demonstrating how genres and themes gain traction simultaneously across different studios and networks In addition to offering historical insights this book engages with contemporary debates on media repetition nostalgia and Hollywood s fixation on reproducing familiar narratives Written by an author with extensive expertise in media studies this book combines exhaustive research with a clear accessible style making it an essential resource for understanding the mechanisms behind content duplication in the entertainment industry Academically this book contributes to scholarship in film television and media studies by applying an interdisciplinary approach that integrates political science feminist theory and cultural analysis It draws on close readings of films industry reports and a dataset of critical reviews to provide fresh perspectives on media production and consumption As a valuable resource for students and scholars alike it enriches discussions on screen media industrial production and the cultural forces shaping contemporary entertainment
