Modern Poetry After Modernism James Longenbach, 1997 Reading a diverse range of poets John Ashbery Elizabeth Bishop Amy Clampitt Jorie Graham Richard Howard Randall Jarrell Robert Lowell Robert Pinsky and Richard Wilbur Longenbach reveals that American poets since mid century have not so much disowned their modernist past as extended elements of modernism that other readers have suppressed or neglected to see Jorie Graham Thomas Gardner, 2005 Jorie Graham is one of the most important American poets now writing This first book length study brings together thirteen previously published essays and review essays by many of the major critics currently interested in her work and five new essays commissioned for this volume Commenting on each of Graham's eight poetry collections these essays encompass the range of critical thought that her work has attracted both surveying it broadly and engaging closely with individual poems These essays identify three broad concerns that run through each of her strikingly different volumes of poems the movement of the mind in action the role of the body in experiencing the world and the pressures of material conditions on mind and body alike Gardner both shows how Graham is being read at the moment and charts new areas of investigation likely to dominate thinking about her over the next decade This collection is sure to become the crucial first step for all future work on Graham and on American poetry of the last two decades The Fifth Book of Peace Maxine Hong Kingston,2007-12-18 A long time ago in China there existed three Books of Peace that proved so threatening to the reigning powers that they had them burned Many years later Maxine Hong Kingston wrote a Fourth Book of Peace but it too was burned in the catastrophic Berkeley Oakland Hills fire of 1991 a fire that coincided with the death of her father Now in this visionary and redemptive work Kingston completes her interrupted labor weaving fiction and memoir into a luminous meditation on war and peace devastation and renewal Albert Einstein: The Son-in-law of the Serbs (the Yugoslavs) V.
