When multiple forces act on an object, they combine to determine the net force, which determines whether the object speeds up, slows down, or changes direction. Understanding how forces act together is essential to explaining various observations from a physics world, such as a ball's trajectory or a car's acceleration. Newton's second law of motion states that the acceleration of an object is directly proportional to the net force acting on it and inversely proportional to its mass. This means that if the net force increases, the acceleration increases proportionally, but if the mass increases, the acceleration decreases. For example, pushing a heavy box with a small force will result in a small acceleration, while pushing a lighter box with the same force will result in a larger acceleration. Newton's first law of motion states that an object at rest stays at rest and an object in motion stays in motion with the same speed and in the same direction unless acted upon by an unbalanced force. This means that if the net force on an object is zero, the object's velocity will not change. For example, a car moving at a constant speed on a straight road will continue to move at that speed unless a net force acts on it.  Answer the questions that follow. <ol style="list-style-type: none"> Which of the following is not a contact force? <ol style="list-style-type: none"> Normal force Friction Gravitational force Tension Which of the following is not a contact force? <ol style="list-style-type: none"> Normal force Friction Gravitational force Tension Which of the following is not a contact force? <ol style="list-style-type: none"> Normal force Friction Gravitational force Tension Which of the following is not a contact force? <ol style="list-style-type: none"> Normal force Friction Gravitational force Tension
