Crisis Of Modernity:

The Crisis of Modernity Augusto Del Noce, Carlo Lancellotti, 2015-01-01 A selection of essays on modernity and secularization by one of the most distinguished Italian thinkers of the mid twentieth century The Crisis Of Modernity Gunter H. Lenz, Kurt L. Shell, 2019-06-18 The crisis of the project of modernity Habermas is at the same time a crisis of critical theories of society and culture that have radically questioned bourgeois culture and capitalist society and economy from the perspective of a utopia of enlightened rationality A number of parallel recent social and political problems developments and Jacob Burckhardt and the Crisis of Modernity John R. Hinde, 2000-06-28 As a historian of the Renaissance and the rise of Christianity Burckhardt was concerned with periods of social political and cultural transformation Writing in the aftermath of the 1848 Revolutions and in the long shadow cast by the French Revolution of 1789 he observed the rise of industrial capitalism and mass politics with trepidation He especially lamented the fate of the individual whose creativity had shaped the glories of the Renaissance and ancient Greece but who was increasingly domesticated and commodified in modern society Unlike conventional accounts which characterize him as an apolitical aesthete Hinde shows us that Burckhardt was as a thinker of profound importance whose conservative anti modernism ranks him with his colleague Friedrich Nietzsche The Crisis of Modernity Karel Kosík, 1995 These essays containing the reflections of the most influential philosopher of the Prague Spring deal with the crisis of state party society and the individual in Czechoslovakia existing up until December 1969 Known primarily to English speaking audiences as the author of Dialectics of the Concrete Kosik is recognized for his contribution to the ongoing scholarship intended to relate Marx's ideas to the contemporary world All of the essays in this collection appeared originally in Czechoslovakia over a period from 1961 to 1969 This edition making most of them available to English readers for the first time includes a new preface by Kosik and reflects his own changes to the earlier versions incorporating material which was cut out by censors at their original publication Modernity and Crisis in the Thought of Michel Foucault Matan Oram, 2017 The Crisis of Modernity Gunter H Lenz, Kurt L Shell, 2020-06-30 The crisis of the project of modernity Habermas is at the same time a crisis of critical theories of society and culture that have radically questioned bourgeois culture and capitalist society and economy from the perspective of a utopia of enlightened rationality A number of parallel recent social and political problems developments and John Henry Newman and the Crisis of Modernity Brian W. Hughes, Danielle Nussberger, 2018-11-08 This book blends historical theological and philosophical inquiries into what modernity means with the aim of showing how Newman can analyze critique and explain fruitful ways forward within a diverse range of subjects First it surveys historical and theological topics such as how Newman understood modernity the sensus fidelium the role of doubt and modern views of reason Newman's university ideal and a return to the saint for much needed anthropological insights Second the volume shows how Newman's thought can be insightfully applied to key issues within church and society the need to redefine American

Catholicism the challenge of secularization the role of Christian joy revelation and religious diversity progress traps and the ecological crisis and overcoming post modern individualism Throughout each chapter contributors consistently bring Newman s original and penetrating thought to bear upon critical themes in theological anthropology ecclesiology comparative theology and spirituality The volume shows how Newman s thought can be extended and enriched by dialogue with contemporary thinkers such as Charles Taylor Pope Francis and Bruno Latour In brief the contributors demonstrate how Newman can help frame contemporary self understandings and various theological and social imaginaries in the light of faith

Intellectuals and the Crisis of Modernity Carl Boggs,1993-01-01 This book explores the role of intellectuals in politics and social change from traditional society to the present Its theoretical structure is based upon six distinct types of intellectual activity The rise and decline of specific types is analyzed in the historical context of industrialization technological change shifting social forces and the emergence of popular movements

The Crisis of Global Modernity Prasenjit Duara,2014-12-11 In this major new study Prasenjit Duara expands his influential theoretical framework to present circulatory transnational histories as an alternative to nationalist history Duara argues that the present day is defined by the intersection of three global changes the rise of non western powers the crisis of environmental sustainability and the loss of authoritative sources of what he terms transcendence the ideals principles and ethics once found in religions or political ideologies The physical salvation of the world is becoming and must become the transcendent goal of our times but this goal must transcend national sovereignty if it is to succeed Duara suggests that a viable foundation for sustainability might be found in the traditions of Asia which offer different ways of understanding the relationship between the personal ecological and universal These traditions must be understood through the ways they have circulated and converged with contemporary developments

Modernity in Crisis L. Donskis,2011-08-15 A blend of political theory social theory and philosophy of culture the book will show the relationship and tension between thought and action politics and literature power and dissent in modern politics and culture

The Congregation in a Secular Age (Ministry in a Secular Age Book #3) Andrew Root,2021-01-19 Churches often realize they need to change But if they re not careful the way they change can hurt more than help In this culmination of his well received Ministry in a Secular Age trilogy leading practical theologian Andrew Root offers a new paradigm for understanding the congregation in contemporary ministry He articulates why congregations feel pressured by the speed of change in modern life and encourages an approach that doesn t fall into the negative traps of our secular age Living in late modernity means our lives are constantly accelerated and calls for change in the church often support this call to speed up Root asserts that the recent push toward innovation in churches has led to an acceleration of congregational life that strips the sacred out of time Many congregations are simply unable to keep up which leads to burnout and depression When things move too fast we feel alienated from life and the voice of a living God The Congregation in a Secular Age calls congregations to reimagine what change is and how to live into this future helping them move from relevance to resonance      Thinking Systematics Murray E.G. Smith, Tim Hayslip, 2025-02-14T00:00:00Z Thinking Systematics TSS is conceived as a toolkit for the mind designed to improve how we think about the world analyze information and pursue our goals Smith and Hayslip make a compelling argument that individual thinking and collective decision making are being systematically constrained within limits imposed by outmoded forms of cognition and the determination of privileged elites to perpetuate an unsustainable status quo The dialectical reasoning advocated in this wide ranging book aims to overcome those limits and to allow a much more profound understanding of the human condition in the 21st century Mainstream problem solving focuses almost exclusively on scientific technological fixes on one side and moral cultural remedies on the other But to comprehend our world adequately far more serious attention must be given to the specifically social economic and political arrangements shaping our lives Once embraced by growing numbers of people TSS strategies methods and habits of thought can contribute significantly to a new common sense one adequate to meeting the immense challenges facing humanity in our era      Martial Arts Studies Paul Bowman, 2015-04-09 The phrase martial arts studies is increasingly circulating as a term to describe a new field of interest But many academic fields including history philosophy anthropology and Area studies already engage with martial arts in their own particular way Therefore is there really such a thing as a unique field of martial arts studies Martial Arts Studies is the first book to engage directly with these questions It assesses the multiplicity and heterogeneity of possible approaches to martial arts studies exploring orientations and limitations of existing approaches It makes a case for constructing the field of martial arts studies in terms of key coordinates from post structuralism cultural studies media studies and post colonialism By using these anti disciplinary approaches to disrupt the approaches of other disciplines Martial Arts Studies proposes a field that both emerges out of and differs from its many disciplinary locations      Can We Live Together? Alain Touraine, David Macey, 2000 In this book a leading French social thinker grapples with the gap between the tendency toward globalization of economic relations and mass culture and the increasingly sectarian nature of our social identities as members of ethnic religious or national groups Though at first glance it might seem as if the answer to the question Can we live together is that we already do live together watching the same television programs buying the same clothes and even using the same language to communicate from one country to another the author argues that in important ways we are farther than ever from belonging to the same society or the same culture Our small societies are not gradually merging into one vast global society instead the simultaneously political territorial and cultural entities that we once called societies or countries are breaking up before our eyes in the wake of ethnic political and religious conflict The result is that we live together only to the extent that we make the same gestures and use the same objects we do not communicate with one another in a meaningful way or govern ourselves together What power can now reconcile a transnational economy with the disturbing reality of introverted communities The author argues against the idea that all we can do is agree on some social rules of mutual tolerance and respect for personal freedom and forgo the attempt to forge deeper bonds He argues instead that we can use a focus on the personal life project the construction of an active self or subject ultimately to form meaningful social and political institutions The book concludes by exploring how social institutions might be retooled to safeguard the development of the personal subject and communication between subjects and by sketching out what these new social institutions might look like in terms of social relations politics and education

Lou Henry Hoover Nancy Beck Young, 2004 This first thoroughly researched appraisal of Hoover's tenure as first lady 1929-1933 argues that she was the first modern presidential wife because of her use of radio adoption of social causes and public activism outside White House traditions

Key Metaphors for History Javier Fernández-Sebastián, 2024-04-03 This book casts a fresh look at what to date has been a relatively unexplored question the enormous value and usefulness of the metaphor in the understanding and writing of history and at the historical culture reflected by these metaphors Mapping a wide range of tropes present in historiography and public discourse the book identifies some of the key metaphorical resources employed by historians politicians and journalists to represent time history memory the past the present and the future and examines a selection of analytical concepts of a temporal nature built upon unmistakably metaphorical foundations such as modernity event process revolution crisis progress decline or transition The analysis of these and other pillars on which modern history has been built whether as a philosophy of history as an academic discipline or as a set of events will interest graduates and scholars dealing with the historical and social sciences and the humanities in general Key Metaphors for History offers a broad overview of historiography and historiosophy from an unfrequented point of view halfway between conceptual history theory of history and metaphorology Moreover it constitutes a form of self reflection of the historian on his or her own positionality when researching and writing history

Thinking Faith after Christianity Martin Koci, 2020-06-01 Winner of the 2020 Emerging Scholars Theological Book Prize presented by the European Society for Catholic Theology This book examines the work of Czech philosopher Jan Patočka from the largely neglected perspective of religion Patočka is known primarily for his work in phenomenology and ancient Greek philosophy and also as a civil rights activist and critic of modernity In this book Martin Koci shows Patočka also maintained a persistent and increasing interest in Christianity Thinking Faith after Christianity examines the theological motifs in Patočka's work and brings his thought into discussion with recent developments in phenomenology making a case for Patočka as a forerunner to what has become known as the theological turn in continental philosophy Koci systematically examines his thoughts on the relationship between theology and philosophy and his perennial struggle with the idea of crisis For Patočka modernity metaphysics and Christianity were all in different kinds of crises and Koci demonstrates how his work responded to those crises creatively providing new insights on theology understood as the task of thinking and living transcendence in a problematic world It perceives the unthought element of Christianity what Patočka identified as its greatest resource and potential not as a weakness but as a credible way to ponder Christian faith and the Christian mode of existence after the proclaimed death of God and the end of metaphysics Chinese Cinemas Felicia Chan, Andy Willis, 2016-05-20 Chinese Cinemas International Perspectives examines the impact the rapid expansion of Chinese filmmaking in mainland China has had on independent and popular Chinese cinemas both in and outside of China. While the large Chinese markets are coveted by Hollywood, the commercial film industry within the People's Republic of China has undergone rapid expansion since the 1990s. Its own production, distribution, and exhibition capacities have increased exponentially in the past 20 years, producing box office success both domestically and abroad. This volume gathers the work of a range of established scholars and newer voices on Chinese cinemas to address questions that interrogate both Chinese films and the place and space of Chinese cinemas within the contemporary global film industries, including the impact on independent filmmaking both within and outside of China, the place of Chinese cinemas produced outside of China, and the significance of new internal and external distribution and exhibition patterns on recent conceptions of Chinese cinemas. This is an ideal book for students and researchers interested in Chinese and Asian Cinema, as well as for students studying topics such as World Cinema and Asian Studies. Søren

Kierkegaard Jon Stewart, 2015-10-08 Søren Kierkegaard: Subjectivity, Irony, and the Crisis of Modernity examines the thought of Søren Kierkegaard, a unique figure who has freed, provoked, fascinated, and irritated people ever since he walked the streets of Copenhagen. At the end of his life, Kierkegaard said that the only model he had for his work was the Greek philosopher Socrates. This work takes this statement as its point of departure. Jon Stewart explores what Kierkegaard meant by this and to show how different aspects of his writing and argumentative strategy can be traced back to Socrates. The main focus is The Concept of Irony, which is a key text at the beginning of Kierkegaard's literary career. Although it was an early work, it nevertheless played a determining role in his later development and writings. Indeed, it can be said that it laid the groundwork for much of what would appear in his later famous books such as Either/Or and Fear and Trembling.
