(Horror Classics Library) Frankenstein/Dracula Mary Wollstonecraft Shelley, Bram Stoker, 2013-09-03 I have read your letters to Miss Lucy Forgive me but I had to begin to inquire somewhere and there was none to ask I know that you were with her at Whitby She sometimes kept a diary you need not look surprised Madam Mina it was begun after you had left and was in imitation of you and in that diary she traces by inference certain things to a sleep walking in which she puts down that you saved her In great perplexity then I come to you and ask you out of your so much kindness to tell me all of it that you can remember I can tell you I think Dr Van Helsing all about it Ah then you have good memory for facts for details It is not always so with young ladies No doctor but I wrote it all down at the time I can show it to you if you like Oh Madam Mina I will be grateful you will do me much favour I could not resist the temptation of mystifying him a bit I suppose it is some of the taste of the original apple that remains still in our mouths so I handed him the shorthand diary He took it with a grateful bow and said May I read it If you wish I answered as demurely as I could He opened it and for an instant his face fell Then he stood up and bowed Oh you so clever woman he said I knew long that Mr Jonathan was a man of much thankfulness but see his wife have all the good things And will you not so much honour me and so help me as to read it for me Alas I know not the shorthand By this time my little joke was over and I was almost ashamed so I took the typewritten copy from my workbasket and handed it to him Forgive me I said I could not help it but I had been thinking that it was of dear Lucy that you wished to ask and so that you might not have time to wait not on my account but because I know your time must be precious I have written it out on the typewriter for you He took it and his eyes glistened You are so good he said And may I read it now I may want to ask you some things when I have read By all means I said read it over whilst I order lunch and then you can ask me questions whilst we eat He bowed and settled himself in a chair with his back to the light and became absorbed in the papers whilst I went to see after lunch chiefly in order that he might not be disturbed When I came back I found him walking hurriedly up and down the room his face all ablaze with excitement He rushed up to me and took me by both hands
