Lubetkin's Highpoint II and the Jewish Contribution to Modern English Architecture Deborah Lewittes,2018-05-15 In 1935 the Russian born Jewish architect Berthold Lubetkin and his firm Tecton designed Highpoint a block of flats in London which Le Corbusier called revolutionary Three years later Lubetkin completed a companion design Yet Highpoint II felt very different and the sense that the ideals of modernism had been abandoned seemed hard to dispute Had modern architecture failed to take root in England This book challenges the belief that English architecture was on hiatus during the 1930s Using Highpoint II as a springboard Deborah Lewittes takes us on a journey through the defining moments of modern English architecture the high points of the period surrounding Highpoint II Drawing on Lubetkin s work and his writings the book argues that he advanced influential lasting theories which were rooted in his design for Highpoint II Lubetkin s work is explored within the context of wider Jewish emigration to London during the interwar years as well as the anti Semitism that pervaded Britain during the 1930s As Lewittes demonstrates this decade was anything but quiet Providing a new perspective on twentieth century English architecture this book is of interest to students and scholars in architectural history urban studies Jewish studies and related fields

Hatherley,2025-03-27 Britain Made in Europe A Guardian Best History and Politics Book of the Year 2025 In the 1930s tens of thousands of central Europeans sought sanctuary from fascism in Britain While the rainy seemingly quaint island they discovered on arrival was a far cry from the dynamism of Weimar Berlin or Red Vienna it was safe and it became home Yet the migrants had not arrived alone they brought with them new and radical ideas and as they began to rebuild their lives and livelihoods they transformed the face of Britain forever Drawing on an immense cast of artists and intellectuals including celebrated figures like Erno Goldfinger forgotten luminaries like Ruth Glass and a host of larger than life visionaries and charlatans the historian Owen Hatherley argues that in the resulting clash between European modernism and British moderation our imaginations were fundamentally realigned and remade for the better In casting what Bertolt Brecht called in a new German word a Verfremdungseffekt an alienation effect on Britain the aliens made us all a little bit alien too Provocative entertaining and meticulously researched The Alienation Effect opens our eyes to the influence of the migrants all around us many of our most quintessentially British icons are the product of this culture clash and entreats us to remember and renew our proud national tradition of asylum

The Other Modern Movement Kenneth Frampton,2022-01-25 A revealing new look at modernist architecture emphasizing its diversity complexity and broad inventiveness Usually associated with Mies and Le Corbusier the Modern Movement was instrumental in advancing new technologies of construction in architecture including the use of glass steel and reinforced concrete Renowned historian Kenneth Frampton offers a bold look at this crucial period focusing on architects less commonly associated with the movement in order to reveal the breadth and complexity of architectural modernism The Other Modern Movement profiles nineteen architects each of whom consciously contributed to the evolution of a new architectural typology through a key work realized between 1922 and 1962 Frampton's account offers new insights into iconic buildings like Eileen Gray's E 1027 House in France and Richard Neutra's Kaufmann House in Palm Springs California as well as lesser known works such as Antonin Raymond's Tokyo Golf Club and Alejandro de la Sota's Maravillas School Gymnasium in Madrid Foregrounding the ways that these diverse projects employed progressive models advanced new methods in construction techniques and displayed a new sociocultural awareness Frampton shines a light on the rich legacy of the Modern Movement and the enduring potential of the unfinished modernist project

The Coming of the Aerial War Michele Haapamäki,2014-01-08 In the first half of the 20th century the possibility of flight opened up entirely new avenues of thought and exploration In the age of H G Wells and Biggles the opening up of the air to balloons and planes the Royal Flying Corps was founded in 1912 appealed to concepts of courage and bravery which would be both encouraged and undermined by the experiences of World War I The sky also held new terrors for everyday people who were now within reach of an airborne enemy these fears included the possibilities of bombing poison gas surveillance and social control This duality of fear and enthusiasm drove the Air Raid Precaution movement while vocal elements in the press and in parliament called for radical plans to cope with apocalyptic scenarios

Here Michele Haapamaki charts the history of flight and of war in the air in the early twentieth century addressing the key issues of interwar historiography such as patriotism fear masculinity and propaganda

In This Dark House Louise Kehoe,2010-01-13 In 1939 the influential architect Berthold Lubetkin abruptly left his thriving career in London and dropped out of sight moving with his wife to a desolate farm in rural Gloucestershire Life in the house the Lubetkins named World's End was far from idyllic for their three children Louise Kehoe and her siblings lived in an atmosphere of oppressive isolation while their tyrannical father at times charming and witty but usually a terrorist in a self styled Stalinist hell badgered and belittled them during his fits of self loathing Even his true identity remained an enigma That secret was never divulged during her father's lifetime but Louise's quest to unearth its origins her relentless piecing together of the clues she found after his death is a remarkable story written with extraordinary grace style and imagination of an identity and a heritage lost and found

Pioneers in Public Health Jill Stewart,2017-04-21 The public health movement involved numerous individuals who made the case for change and put new practices into place However despite a growing interest in how we understand history to inform current evidence based practice there is no book focusing on our progressive pioneers in public health and environmental health This book seeks to fill that gap It examines carefully selected public and environmental health pioneers who made a real difference to the UK's health some with international influence Many of these pioneers were criticised in their life times yet they had the strength of character to know what they were doing was fundamentally right and persevered often against many odds Including chapters on Thomas Fresh John Snow Duncan of Liverpool Margaret McMillan George Cadbury Christopher Addison Margery Spring Rice and others This book will help readers place pioneers in a wider context and to make more sense of their academic and practitioner work today how evidence and what was historically understood by it underpins modern day practice and how these visionary pioneers developed their ideas into practice some not fully appreciated until after their own deaths Pioneers in Public Health sets the tone for a renewed focus on research into evidence based public and environmental health which has become subject of growing international interest in recent years
