

Muhammad Ali

Introduction

1 Ali was born Cassius Marcellus Clay, Jr. in Louisville, Kentucky, on January 17, 1942. He has called himself "The Greatest," and others have called him the "Louisville Lip." Clay did all his own talking to the media. He would even predict the round in which he would win. Here is an example. "To prove I'm great he will fall in eight!" The 6' 3" Ali had a highly unusual style for a heavyweight boxer, where instead of defending himself, he would use his speed and quickness to avoid punches from his opponents.

Ali Meets Joe E. Martin

2 Clay was first turned to boxing by a Louisville police officer named Joe E. Martin, who he found in a gym. When Martin first met Clay, the young 12-year-old Cassius was furious over his bicycle being stolen. He told Martin that he was going to "whup" the person who stole his bicycle. Martin exclaimed, "You better learn to box first." After noting that, it was only weeks before the 89-pound Cassius had his first bout, and his first win.

3 He dreamed of being heavyweight champion of the world even when he was young, but no one could have predicted the turn that his life would take. In his youth, Clay won several state and national Golden Gloves titles, as well as the Light Heavyweight gold medal in the 1960 Olympics in Rome.

Angelo Dundee Enters Ali's Boxing Career

4 From 1960 to 1963, the young Clay built up a record of 19-0, with 15 knockouts. At the time, Cassius was fortunate to meet a trainer named Angelo Dundee. With Dundee in his corner, Cassius captured the heavyweight division with his unusual style. He didn't throw body shots like other boxers, but rather aimed at the opponent's head. He also developed what we know as the "Ali Shuffle," where he seemed to float in the ring. It was a quick shuffling of the feet which unbalanced his opponents.

The Black History Bowl: Mini Biographies of African Americans Cadmus S. Hull, 2018-12-07

When I spoke at book signings for my first book I found that people in general knew very little about many of the African Americans that I had on the display board Thus this second book in The Black History Bowl series was written to make people aware of the contributions that African Americans have made to American and World history The African American history quiz that is included in the book is divided into eight 8 sections Each section begins with a worksheet The worksheet is followed by short biographies of the African American history contributors. There is an answer sheet at the end of each section. In addition, note sheets have been included with each biography for you to use to take notes when researching and gathering information. Additional information on each African American can be found on the web site that is listed at the bottom of the page after the biography. Also included in this book is information on some points of interest that I think are important to the knowledge base of the average American. The information includes the African American holiday of Kwanzaa, the NAACP's Spingarn Medal, and information on Juneteenth, the actual day when all slaves were freed. In addition, this book includes a section for Women's History Month which highlights African American women from my first book. A timeline of African American history is also included. It is hoped that you will enjoy reading the book as you continue to enrich your knowledge of the contributions that African Americans have made to history.
