

Alternative Computing Architectures As a Solution to the Application of Moore's Law Energy Consumption

Energy consumption is a major concern for data centers and cloud providers. The energy consumption of data centers is increasing rapidly, and this is a major concern for the environment and the cost of operations.

Moore's Law is the observation that the number of transistors on a microchip doubles approximately every two years, though the rate of increase has slowed since the early 2000s. This has led to a significant increase in the energy consumption of data centers and cloud providers.
