

Nature vs. Nurture

Biologists believe that environmental influences modify genetic inheritance. They also believe that many behaviors are determined by a combination of inheritance and environmental influences. In fact, a combination of both is often the most accurate description of human behavior. In fact, the only way to study inheritance is to use the model of a combination of both. In fact, the only way to study inheritance is to use the model of a combination of both.

Biologists believe that both nature and nurture play a role in who we are. They believe that the genes we inherit from our parents, but with the environment, play a role in who we are. They believe that the genes we inherit from our parents, but with the environment, play a role in who we are.
