American Mercury Magazine January To April 1926:

The American Mercury ,1926 The American Mercury Henry Louis Mencken,1926 Jazz in Print (1859-1929)
Karl Koenig,2002 This anthology was compiled to aid the scholar working on the origins and evolution of jazz Covering materials published through 1929 it also begins with articles from 1856 which do not concern jazz directly but will serve to present a solid foundation for understanding the American music scene from which jazz developed Chronologically listed and well indexed the hundreds of articles comprise in effect a history of jazz as it evolved Beginning with accounts of negro music in the pre jazz era continuing in an exploration of spirituals followed by a description of ragtime we finally learn about the development of jazz from its practitioners and informed audiences of the time The New England Watch and Ward Society
Paul Charles Kemeny,2018 The New England Watch and Ward Society provides a new window into the history of American Protestantism during the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries By suppressing obscene literature gambling and prostitution the moral reform organization embodied Protestant efforts to shape public morality in an increasing intellectually and culturally diverse society Intercollegiate Debates; a Yearbook of College Debating ,1928 American Literary Magazines Edward E. Chielens,1992-08-24 The history of modern American literature is inextricably tied to the history of the literary magazine Conversely in the individual histories of these magazines can be gleaned highlights of literary activity and insights on the writers and editors in the forefront The literary magazines of the twentieth century most of them known as little because of small budgets and circulation and short lives number in the thousands Some like the venerable New Yorker have enjoyed wide circulation for well over half a century others like The Fugitive published in Nashville Tennessee in the early 1920s were regional and or experimental and short lived Of these thousands editor Edward E Chielens has selected seventy six of the most significant for description and analysis in individual historical essays An additional one hundred magazines are briefly profiled in an appendix Forty three scholars and writers contributed to this volume Following the pattern established in Chielens s earlier complementary volume American Literary Magazines The Eighteenth and Nineteenth Centuries the magazine essays also provide appended data on information sources and publishing history The volume introduction discusses the characteristics of different types of literary magazines in the twentieth century and their sponsoring organizations or individuals as well as the influence on their development of leading literary figures such as Ezra Pound and H L Mencken This discussion is bolstered by a chronological appendix to the volume presenting highlights in the history of literary magazines in the perspective of events in literary history An additional appendix provides a directory of major collections of literary magazines in the United States and Canada with descriptions of their holdings The American Mercury, V7, No. 25-28, January to April, 1926 H. L. Mencken,2013-10 This is a new release of the original 1926 edition Courses of Reading in American Literature with Bibliographies Stanley Thomas Williams,1930
