Torriano Berry,Venise T. Berry,2015-05-07 As early as 1909 African Americans were utilizing the new medium of cinema to catalogue the world around them using the film camera as a device to capture their lives and their history The daunting subject of race and ethnicity permeated life in America at the turn of the twentieth century and due to the effect of certain early films specific television images and an often biased news media it still plagues us today As new technologies bring the power of the moving image to the masses African Americans will shoot and edit on laptop computers and share their stories with a global audience via the World Wide Web These independently produced visions will add to the diverse cache of African American images being displayed on an ever expanding silver screen This wide range of stories topics views and genres will finally give the world a glimpse of African American life that has long been ignored and has yet to be seen This second edition of Historical Dictionary of African American Cinema covers its history through a chronology an introductory essay appendixes and an extensive bibliography The dictionary section has over 1400 cross referenced entries on actors actresses movies producers organizations awards and terminology this book provides a better understanding of the role African Americans played in film history This book is an excellent access point for students researchers and anyone wanting to know more about African American cinema Bowker's Complete Video Directory, 1999 ,1999 The A to Z of African American Cinema S. Torriano Berry,Venise T. Berry,2009-09-02 On 4 July 1910 in 100 degree heat at an outdoor boxing ring near Reno Nevada film cameras recorded and thousands of fans witnessed former heavyweight champion Jim Jeffries reluctant return from retirement to fight Jack Johnson a black man After 14 grueling rounds Johnson knocked out Jeffries and for the first time in history there was a black heavyweight champion of the world At least 10 people lost their lives because of

Johnson's victory and hundreds more were injured due to white retaliation and wild celebrations in the streets. Public screenings received instantaneous protests and hundreds of cities barred the film from being shown. Congress even passed a law making it a federal offense to transport moving pictures of prizefights across state lines and thus the most powerful portrayal of a black man ever recorded on film was made virtually invisible. This is but one of the hundreds of films covered in The A to Z of African American Cinema which includes everything from The Birth of a Nation to Crash. In addition to the films, brief biographies of African American actors and actresses such as Sidney Poitier, James Earl Jones, Halle Berry, Eddie Murphy, Whoopi Goldberg, Denzel Washington, and Jamie Foxx can be found in this reference. Through a chronology, a list of acronyms and abbreviations, an introductory essay, a bibliography, appendixes, black and white photos, and hundreds of cross-referenced dictionary entries on actors, actresses, movies, producers, organizations, awards, film credits, and terminology, this book provides a better understanding of the role African Americans played in film history. Film Directors Michael Singer, 1993
