

Nature vs. Nurture

Biologists believe that environmental influences modify genetic inheritance from the zygote. However, nature is also influencing growth & development by itself. Both these influences are not in a dichotomous relationship. Both are influencing each other. It is not possible to say that one of these influences is more important than the other. Both are influencing each other.

Biologists believe that both nature and nurture are important. However, the question is whether nature is more important than nurture, or whether nurture is more important than nature.
