Constructions of the Classical Body James I. Porter, 2025-12-10 Classical scholarship has traditionally neglected the prominence of the body in antiquity Constructions of the Classical Body theorizes that the study of antiquity is necessarily a study of the body and that attention to this fact can lead to a much needed shift in the way in which classical studies are approached today This volume aims to reestablish the relevance of the problem of the body at the perimeters of several different kinds of inquiry and in this way to help open up a field of possibilities for future study The range covered by the essays in this volume is sweeping from Corinthian vaseware to Athenian and Roman politics poetry from Homer to Ovid medical writers from the Hippocratic corpus to the diary of Aelius Aristides second century c e philosophy Seneca Porphyry the Greek novel Christian apocrypha Ovid s medieval reception and twentieth century film This range is a consequence of the multidisciplinary that any study of the body requires and it attests to the particular richness of the body in classical antiquity and as an object for study today The volume illustrates that body is located between traditional borders not within them the body dissolves traditional objects of study and joins areas usually kept apart Retracing the fate of the body is thus a way of rendering antiquity truly strange again it allows us to see the past afresh with open eyes This volume includes essays by Carlin A Barton Anne Carlson Eric Downing Catherine Edwards Maud W Gleason John Henderson Ralph Hexter S C Humphreys Helen King Leslie Kurke Robert Lamberton David S Potter Amy Richlin Giulia Sissa Maria Wyke and Froma I Zeitlin along with an introduction by James I Porter a superb collection one that I know will be most welcome not only in the field of classical studies but in the libraries of all those interested in the history and historicity of the body Page duBois University of California San Diego Macmillan's Magazine ,1870 Victoria Magazine ,1865 Asian Review ,1921 Inaka, Or, Reminiscences of Rokkosan and Other Rocks ,1924 Transdisciplinary Perspectives on Childhood in Contemporary Britain Sandra Dinter,Ralf Schneider,2017-11-15 In the light of the complex demographic shifts associated with late modernity and the impetus of neo liberal politics childhood continues all the more to operate as a repository for the articulation of diverse social and cultural anxieties Since the Thatcher years juvenile delinquency child poverty and protection have been persistent issues in public discourse Simultaneously childhood has advanced as a popular subject in the arts as the wealth of current films and novels in this field indicates Focusing on the late twentieth and the early twenty first centuries this collection assembles contributions concerned with current political social and cultural dimensions of childhood in the United Kingdom The individual chapters written by internationally renowned experts from the social sciences and the humanities address a broad spectrum of contemporary childhood issues including debates on child protection school dress codes the media the representation and construction of children in audiovisual media and literary awards for children s fiction Appealing to a wide scholarly audience by joining perspectives from various disciplines including art history education law film and TV studies sociology and literary studies this volume endorses a transdisciplinary and meta theoretical approach to the study of childhood It seeks to both illustrate and dismantle the various ways in which childhood has been implicitly and explicitly conceived in different disciplines in the wake of the constructivist paradigm shift in childhood studies Things Japanese, Being Notes on Various Subjects Connected with Japan, for the Use of Travellers and Others Basil Hall Chamberlain,1939 Japanese Art Motives Maude Rex Allen,1917 Werner's Magazine ,1899 Outlook Alfred
