Blood Kin:

Blood Kin Roy Hart, Blood Kin Ronald Kelly, 2020-07-28 Unholy Revival Josiah Craven had been all but forgotten for nearly a hundred years To his descendants he was nothing more than an imposing image in an old tintype photograph and the subject of stories told in hushed tones before the fireplace at night A traveling mountain preacher who had returned from his wanderings and died by mysterious circumstances buried in an unmarked grave with a wooden stake through his heart Dudley Craven had heard the tales but never believed them until his plow unearthed an ancient coffin in the center of a lonesome mountain pasture Now Josiah is back and his true nature has been revealed Hungering for the blood and obedience of his kin he roams the Appalachian Mountains with only one purpose in mind to initiate his family into a dark church of the damned Only a trio of unlikely foes summon the courage to bring Josiah's ungodly mission to an end An alcoholic carpenter who will do anything to save his wife and children a timid preacher's wife with a love of horror literature and film and the knowledge to defeat the undead and a moonshine making mountain man who once encountered a similar evil in the dark tunnels beneath the jungles of Vietnam Together they will ascend the peak of Craven's Mountain to do battle with Josiah Craven and his congregation of the living dead

Law and Kinship in Thirteenth-Century England Sam Worby, 2015 First comprehensive survey of how kinship rules were discussed and applied in medieval England Two separate legal jurisdictions concerned with family relations held sway in England during the high middle ages canon law and common law In thirteenth and fourteenth century Europe kinship rules dominated the lives of laymen and laywomen They determined whom they might marry decided in the canon law courts and they determined from whom they might inherit decided in the common law courts This book seeks to uncover the association between the two exploring the ways in which the two legal systems shared ideas about family relationship where the one jurisdiction the common law was concerned about ties of consanguinity and where the other canon law was concerned to add to the kinship mix ties of affinity It also demonstrates how the theories of kinship were practically applied in the courtrooms of medieval England SAM WORBY is a civil servant and independent scholar

Ethnosymbolism and the Dynamics of Identity Liu Mingxin, Elya Tzaneva, 2015-10-13 This book is an exploration of the potential of the ethnosymbolic approach to nation and identity to act as an instrumental tool for research into the mechanisms of identity building Using insights and data from Bulgarian history and culture it views the construction of Bulgarian national identity as a modern process intimately affected by circumstances which prevailed in nineteenth century Bulgarian society and also as a process which for its structural and psychological prerequisites drew upon and reworked various specific features and peculiarities of an available but always malleable and never fixed Bulgarian ethnic and cultural tradition The development of Bulgarian national identity drew in combination or mutual interaction upon two main sources namely a process of articulating systematising and rationalising ideas of group commonality and ethnic distinctiveness and the mobilising and politicising effect of modern economic and political forces upon that intersubjective process The overall means of national identity construction in all its complexity was achieved as a symbiosis between the historical continuity of a collective ethnic inheritance and the modern dynamics of its political activation and mobilisation The book combines diachronically the ideas and logic of social evolution with a synchronic approach that draws upon the so called instrumentalist view of ethnic phenomena It explores the cultural landscape of available ethnic notions and terms that were utilised as expressions of Bulgarian ethnic identity but which also in that process reshaped all this in response to the changing conditions of Bulgarian society in the nineteenth century As such the book offers an in depth investigation of how ideas of national identity were formed and changed within a modernist framework Furthermore it shows how ethnosymbolism used as a tool and instrumentarium for national identity construction can reveal the main patterns that contribute to what is defined as a discursive construction of identity dynamics
