Study of Entrepreneurship Among Young Atlantic Canadians Aged 15-29. Atlantic Canada Opportunities Agency, Corporate Research Associates, 2001. This report describes and presents results of a survey of entrepreneurship among Atlantic Canadian youth. The survey included a quantitative phase involving telephone interviews with young entrepreneurs, non-entrepreneurs, and a qualitative phase of interviews with representatives from government departments, agencies, and from lending/funding institutions that deal directly with potential business owners. The report begins with a statistical data review of young entrepreneurship from a labour market perspective based on analysis of self-employment data from the 1991-1996 Census of Canada and data from the Statistics Canada Labour Force Survey. It then provides a detailed analysis of the quantitative research, focussing on current attitudes towards various business endeavours, business-related issues, as well as noting differences between the entrepreneur/non-entrepreneur groups. This is followed by in-depth results from the qualitative phase, which focussed on current young entrepreneur programs, how these programs can be improved. The final part contains information on the survey methodology. Appendices include copies of the survey questionnaires, interview protocols, along with tabulations of results.

Kourilsky, William B. Walstad, Andrew Thomas, 2007 The Entrepreneur in Youth offers one of the most comprehensive assessments to date of African American Latino and white high school students' aspirations, knowledge, opinions, and educational views related to entrepreneurship and philanthropy A key strength is its longitudinal approach to analysis and interpretations made possible by extensive surveys of over 11 000 respondents from high school youth and other groups including adults and business owners The key findings exhibit an extraordinarily high level of interest in entrepreneurship among youth as well as a strong desire to give back to their communities However they lack the knowledge and experience to achieve their aspirations The book's major recommendations and guidelines include challenges to education and other policymakers to expand and enhance opportunities to access entrepreneurship education and early entrepreneurship mentoring shadowing experiences especially for those who demand it the most African Americans and Latinos Meeting these challenges not only will contribute to economic growth and social reform initiatives but also will increase economic and social mobility and access to opportunity for a still largely untapped pool of future entrepreneurs This book will appeal to academics in entrepreneurship, economics, business, and education as well as policymakers, educators, and business leaders
